THIS FOREWORD IS MY LAST WORD

It is with regret that I see the pressman lock the last pages of this genealogy. There are so many things I would like to have included; Your picture and a fuller sketch of your life and family. But lack of space and ability on my part and the lack of cooperation on the part of some have made it impossible.

I have tried to do three things. First, give you a picture of your past for a thousand years; second, write your name in history—an enduring monument—that will be read for a thousand years; third, give us all a deeper appreciation of our family inheritance.

A couple of years ago I was not feeling up to par, and was about to abandon my long cherished plan of assuming the tremendous burden of this publication, when I got a “shot in the arm” from our distinguished Attorney Dan Hadsell (No. 338) of San Francisco, Calif. He wrote me as follows: “I am much more interested in the genealogy you are preparing than my actions seem to indicate. I hope you will be unremitting in your efforts to complete it. I think it is highly important that the work to date be put in final form while you are here and able to do it. Undoubtedly there is a great deal of work that still may be done. A genealogy never ends, but you must stop somewhere, and I really do not think the printing of the assembled material should await further development.”

GROWING OLD—GRACEFULLY

In writing this Genealogy, I have learned something about the art of “Growing Old Gracefully.” It has given me something to retire to, and to live for. It has made me feel more like an adolescent facing the challenge of eternity, than an old man tottering on the verge of the grave.

It has put new meaning into the statement of the old Assyrian War-Lord, (who lived B.C.). He said, “The rules for making offerings to the dead and libations to the Ghosts of my ancestors which had been practiced, I reintroduce.” There is such a thing as “the eternal present”, if we can experience it.

and time marches on.

In going through my files to see if anything of value had been omitted that should go in, I found the duplicate of a New-Years Greeting that I had written to my children at the Mid-Century, 1950.

The sub-zero blizzards were raging in Nebraska, while I was basking in the tropic sun on the sandy beaches of Treasure Island, in the Gulf of Mexico. Occupied in contemplation, my wandering muse Clio inspired me to write.

Almost seven years have passed since then. But as I read that letter over again it seems to ring a bell. It has in it about what I would like to make my Valedictory. In bidding "you all" a fond adieu, I would like to include every one of you in that encompassing southern expression "You All", as I quote from this mid-century Greetings.

"The coming New Year's day ushers in of the last half of the Twentieth century.

This New Year finds your Progenator past Seventy Years of age; which is the normal span of life for we mortals,—“three score and ten years.” So the future—however glorious it may be—holds for me the Infirmities and Eventuality of old age. Yet I face the future with high hopes and a full measure of satisfaction.

SATISFACTION in the fact that the last score of years in the Nineteenth Century and the first half of the Twentieth Century have not been lived in vain. In spite of my ignorance, bungling, stupidity and short-sightedness, I have had some great experiences, have accomplished something and best of all can bequeath to the last half of the Twentieth Century so fine a group of progeny.

It is in "you all"—that I have such HIGH HOPES.

My HOPE is that "you-all" will do more realistic and clearer thinking than past generations; that in this age of GADGETS, SPEED and CONFUSION "you-all" will DISCERN the INTRINSIC VALUES in life: cherish them deeply, and pursue them relentlessly.

SOME OF THESE VERITIES ARE

PURE and VITAL RELIGION. Don't neglect it.

The HOME and FAMILY. Let nothing invade it's sanctity.

Honesty and fairness in all business transactions.

Maintain high standards in social relations, and in recreation.

Control emotional reactions with severe self-discipline.

Reconcile your self to things you cannot help, and don't worry.

Cultivate a sense of humor, and a deep appreciation of life.

Give your self in loving service to your fellowmen, and be willing to sacrifice for posterity's sake.

Your Progenator seeking a measure of immortality through his posterity, Wishes "You-ALL" a Happy and Glorious New Year.

Willard L. Hadsell

P.S.—Let the sentiments of this Mid-Century Greeting convey my sincere wishes to "You All" and for every day, till the dawn of another Century, as time marches on.

ANNUAL REUNIONS

If a kind Providence will allow me to become an octogenarian, retaining a measure of strength and my mental facilities, I know of no greater satisfaction than to greet many of you again personally.

We belong to a cosmopolitan family, scattered to the ends of the earth, and without enough family consciousness. A sense of belonging, a wider range of personal contracts, and an occasional "get together" would do us all good.

Annual Hadsell family reunions of more or less local groups have been held for years in Connecticut, Michigan, Iowa, Kansas, Oregon, and other places. Several of these I have attended. I cherish the memory of the first Hadsell reunion in California, held in Los Angeles in 1953. From deeper sentiments spring nobler incentives. These are fostered by such associations.

Hadsell Reunion of 1953, at the home of Thomas M. (No. 44) Geraldine B. (No. 355), was made secretary. Her mother and brothers, also Banker James G. (No. 435) with others are in the picture.

There should be many more annual Hadsell Reunions in several other states which should include all lines. Let some energetic Hadsells volunteer to lead in such a move in your state. The index of addresses will give you leads, and help in making points of contact. I would be more than happy to attend when possible and incidentally, some of the younger generation may like to have the memory of having met the man responsible for this publication.

A SUPPLEMENT

No one knows better than the Author, himself how far this work falls short of perfection, and how open it is to just criticism. Many defects spring from the very nature of what is attempted, no one can avoid them. But defects due to ignorance or oversight, and mistakes sent in by old people, partly from memory some of it not legible can be corrected.

I am suggesting the possibility of a supplement of some 8, 16 or 32 pages, as the occasion demands being published to add to this book.

This supplement to include three things:

1. Corrections to errors found in this book.
2. The addition of data omitted, and to bring data down to date with correct mailing addresses.
3. The inclusion of life sketches and pictures of ancient Hadsells I was unable to get, and the printing of pictures of family groups of those who will assume the added expense.

This genealogy will undoubtedly arouse interest in many who here-to-fore have not been interested. I solicit the co-operation of all who will help with this supplement. Write me fully and frankly your criticisms and corrections, with any other data you would like to have included.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

I wish to acknowledge with gratitude and express my appreciation to each and every one who has cooperated in any way to furnish data for this book. They cannot all be named here as the list is too long. However, I would be most ungrateful if I did not mention the late Harriet (Hadsell) Mitchell (No. 361), who helped assemble much of the material in her line, and the late Mary Clarissa (Hadsell) Castle (No. 377), who for years was the secretary for the annual Hadsell reunion of Connecticut, and was custodian of their records. These records she sent me just before she died. Then there was the late Henrietta Hart (Hadsell) Andrus-Owen (called Nettie) (No. 422), who did genealogical research as a vocation for many family lines. She was a great help.

Last but not least was my first cousin, Major Holland Columbus Headley (No. 76). After his retirement as a Highway engineer in the armed services, he spent much time in research in the east at my direction, and on his own initiative, finding many leads and establishing many connections, in all the lines.

I wish to acknowledge the help of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hodsoll, of Queen's Court, South Croydon where I made my headquarters while in England, and Richard Hodsoll their son, who took me to many historic Hodsoll shrines in his automobile, and took many pictures for me.

In Norway, Mr. and Mrs. Bjarne Hadsel, of Bergen, helped me get my bearings and make many connections. On Hadsel Island there was the editor of the paper, "Delteraakns Avis", who accompanied me around the Island, and the Superintendent of Schools, who furnished me with the map etc.

INTRODUCTION

That the author's foreword for this book is not the last for the family is here made evident. Our tribe expands with the centuries. It spreads resistlessly over the world. We have been, even if we have not lived, most everywhere. We have toiled in lands where work was to be done and have sailed with the winds in ventures on all the seas. We have flown higher into the air than the birds and have dived deeper into the oceans than the whales; anyway, we claim to have done so and will do so. We have the right to be proud of ourselves and our ancestry.

What I wish to do here is to say deserving words for the author. It is almost a divine certainty that he personally knows every living member of the tribe. Never was there such a searcher everywhere for every last Hadsell. From him, as from the Avenging Angel, there has been no place to hide. His work has been a joy-moved labor of love to make all of us conscious that there is a Hadsell family and that we are all members of it and to make us feel related to each other by something more than a name. What a wealth of tribal fellowship he has created! How much we owe him!

May another like him, fifty years hence, arise to continue the record and thereafter others at similar intervals — until we shall have worldwide, the repository forever of all Hadsell Family Names in fulfillment of the command of the Lord to mate and multiply!

I have been so thrilled with the genealogy father has written that I insist on having a few words in the introduction. He has given us all

AN ENLARGED VISION OF OUR FAMILY

He has enabled us to see "across the centuries". Hadsells sailing the seven seas, Tall men taking long strides, stepping from peak to peak across mountain ranges; Dipping into valleys too deep to see the bottoms: In the van-guard, pushing back the wilderness and the desert to plant civilization; manning our forts and fighting our battles; facing the sun by day and under the night sky, looking up to count the stars. He has put

NEW MEANING INTO OUR FAMILY NAME

The meaning of a word grows with it's use. HADSELL now conveys the meanings of Hoisted-Sale-Landmark; The-Seat-of-authority; Chivalry-at-its-Best: Pioneering and Patriotism. Our name now becomes a challenge to us all, not to tarnish it, but to add more luster to our legacy.

HOW TO READ THIS BOOK

This genealogy is largely a compilation of family units and connections. The head of each family is given a number that runs consecutively. The second number in each case refers you back to the first number of his father, whose second number refers you on back to the first number of his father. Thus you can trace your line on back as far as we can record it.

ABBREVIATIONS

Most of the abbreviations used to conserve space are of words used over and over again and will be easily understood: b - born; d - died; m - married; res. - residence; etc. The first figure in the dates given is the month, numbered consecutively. The large number of abbreviations used for given names can be found easily by using the family number and tracing back to the given name desired.

Hadsell-Hodsoll Geneology

A THOUSAND YEARS

Through the Centuries

When we face the reality of our conscious existence, three great questions confront us: (1) Who are we? (2) Where did we come from? and, (3) Whither are we bound? As we ponder these questions, the mystery of two eternities loom up—the past from whence we came, and the future into which we are bound. Whoever we are, we find that we are related both to our progenitors and our progeny.

"Children of Adam", by Walt Whitman

"This is not only one man—this is the father of those who shall be fathers in their turn;

In him the start of countless immortal lives, with countless embodiments and enjoyments.

How do you know who shall come from the offspring of his offspring through the centuries?

Whom might you find you had come from yourself, if you could trace back through the centuries."

Aroused Interest

Two things aroused my interest in both the history of the United States, and the history of the Hadsell family. As a boy, the Indians often entered our home unannounced on my father's homestead in Saunders County, Nebraska, and I remember vividly the stories my grandfather used to tell me about his great-grandfather being killed by the Indians, during the Revolutionary War. The other thing that impressed me deeply was the fact that when I was a young man the graves of my great-grandparents were dug up after they had been buried 15 years. Figuratively, I have been digging up ancestors every since.

Digging up Ancestors

If we are ever to know ourselves we will have to dig up our ancestors, get acquainted with them and learn something about our progenitors.

We can call up our ancestors in several ways. I do not mean social calls. Whether we are interested or not, our ancestors are still with us. They are down in our "blood and bone"—all of them—and we are calling them up more often than we realize. We find evidences of their presence when we look in the glass, when we listen to the tone of our voice, and in many things that we say, feel, think or do. We cannot get rid of them however much we may wish, so why not reconcile ourselves to this fact and call our ancestors up into the spotlight of our consciousness—up where we can look them straight in the face, shake hands with them and renew our acquaintance. We hope that reading this family history may increase interest in ourselves as well as our ancestors; and incidentally, prove an incentive to coming generations to add more luster and prestige to our good old family name, as well as to pay the tribute of respect and honor to the heroes of the past.

Two Lives Span the Whole History of the United States

Six months before the Constitution of the United States was written and two years before George Washington was inaugurated as our first president, my great-grandfather was born, March 20, 1787. He died May 14, 1885, in his 99th year. I was born in 1880. In spite of the fact that our two lives lap five years, they span the whole history of the United States, and I am still going strong in 1956—past 76 years old.

The Backbone of America

HADSELL, HADSALL, HODSOLL is not a very common name, and in my extensive research, I find that the Hadsells in America are all blood-relation—that their ancestors were among the early settlers in America, that they had no small part in the development of this country, and that the whole history of America flows through their veins. Hence, I thought it worth while in my leisure time, and now in my retirement, to write up what I have found of the history and genealogy of the Hadsell family and preserve it for future generations.

I have visited literally hundreds of Hadsell families from coast to coast. I have found a few outstanding men, as educators, doctors, lawyers, preachers, technicians, mechanics and business executives. Few have become very wealthy. On the whole I find that most of them belong to the middle income group—honest, industrious, independent, with a tendency toward pioneering. I would say that most of them are typical, normal, average American families, striving to better themselves and their neighbors.

HEREDITY AND POSTERITY

Oliver Wendell Holmes said, "We are not private carriages; we are omnibuses, and the passengers we carry are our ancestors." In spite of the tendency to be rugged individualists, we belong, and the law of inheritance by some subtle and mysterious process incarnates itself in the tendencies of its offspring. As I have studied the family we have reason to be proud of our heredity inheritance. We are endowed with strong bodies, keen minds, and noble incentives. Insanity is unknown, and the number of morons and imbeciles throughout the centuries could be counted on the fingers of one hand.

A CHALLENGE TO POSTERITY

Some have said the factors of destiny are heredity and environment. Too many are deluded with this fallacy. The factors of destiny are four: heredity, environment, self and God. Let me say to on-coming generations, banish that inferiority-complex, stand erect and hold your head high. With your hereditary endowment, whatever the environment you, yourself with the help of God, can become great; overcome all hindrances, live full lives and serve humanity.

With humility and appreciation give due respect to those who have preceded you, making your path clearer, but reserve greater respect for you, yourself, who have new achievements and concepts to forge, and above all, the ability to do so.

The Human Element

This genealogy is of necessity the tabulation of a large number of names, dates and connections. Space and expense prohibit a life sketch of each, but it is hoped that the reader will use his imagination and appreciation of the human element involved in each name, and realize that each name represents a life with all that it means—infancy, childhood joys and sorrows, youth's struggles and hopes, adulthood's successes and failures, health and sickness, birth and death. "Countless embodiments and enjoyments" as Walt Whitman says.

It is hoped that those who read these pages will appreciate something of the tremendous task it has been to assemble this material; that they will make due allowance for human limitations in time, expense and ability; that they will not be "like those who like to shatter the darling creeds of people and tear to shreds the heroism, romance and beauty of every attachable legend because it is ancient; nor even rumple—much less tear—the pleasing garments which time weaves around facts as well as buildings.”

I make no claim that this work is free from errors, although I have tried to make it as accurate as I can.

The tentative conjectures I have made I leave for those who can substantiate or disprove them with authentic records. To collect all the evidence that is needed would take a lifetime so, I will not try to prove what is not susceptible to proof, and of no importance if proved. It is as great an error to try to prove too much as to prove too little. Therefore, I record what I have discovered in my limited research and leave it for those who can, to add what is lacking and correct the errors.

OUR FAMILY HERITAGE

We Hadsells belong to a family whose recorded history covers several centuries. It is my purpose to lift a part of the fascinating story of our family history from the musty archives and make it known and live again; preserve it for posterity and, if possible, sharpen our sense of history, without which no man can understand the problems of his time.

This genealogy is our past, our inheritance—a great story to appreciate, to marvel at, and to enjoy. May it add to your knowledge of how you got where you are.

The history of Norway, England and America is a parade of startling and dramatic events. These great moments of history could not have been if it had not been for the generations of plain folk—busy making a living and quite unaware that they were on the high road to destiny. Somehow they lived and worked in such a way that when destiny came they could meet it without batting an eye.

Our heritage is best understood by the study of the things that the ordinary folk in our line have done and thought, and dreamed—their moods, habits and aspirations, the way they lived and played and did business since they first took the good old family name. Each one has contributed his bit to the heritage by which we live. Therefore, each one is worth looking into—the enthusiasms, the foibles, the impelling drives and wistful dreams of the men and women who brought us into being.

The Hadsel-Hodsoll-Hadsell Family in Norway, England and America

Some may say that the connection between the ancient Hadsel-Hodsoll-Hadsell families of Norway, England, and America is as fantastic as a Scandanavian legend, founded on saga fables.

Be that as it may, the undisputed facts are that:

(1) There is a Hadsel Island, far above the Arctic Circle off the coast of Norway.

(2) There is an ancient family of Hodsolls in England with records back to the time of William the Conqueror.

(3) The Hadsell family in America is an old colonial family whose origin and history should be discovered and recorded.

(4) There are a few Norwegian families whose birthplace was on Hadsel Island who have taken the name of Hadsel since 1900.

Our Norwegian Origin

Every indication leads me to believe that our ancient ancestors were Norwegian. The name, the prevailing family traits—as well as recorded history substantiates this conclusion.

Far above the Arctic Circle (86 parallel) just off the Norwegian coast and above Hadsel Fjord, is Hadsel Island. Hadsel Island lies smugly between the Lofoten group and the Vester-alen group of islands, and faces the open sea.

An Ode to Hadsel Island

A precious land, when summer stores,
The ocean waves caresses
With light from Kingcup golden shores
And children's flaxen tresses.
The countless sea birds weave on high
A garland for the Arctic sky,
And midnights magic sunbeams lie
On new born hope's dominion.

G. M. Gathorne-Hardy

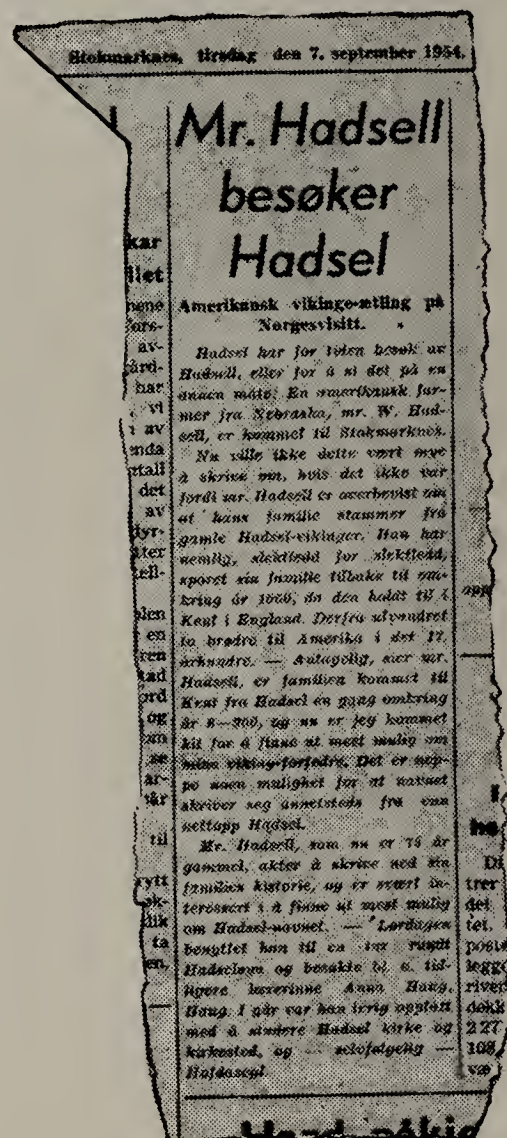

The Call of the Lofotens

In the summer of 1954 I answered the call of the Lofotens. At Bergen, Norway, I boarded the steamer called "The Midnight Sun" and headed north. We traveled the routes our ancient Viking ancestors traveled when bound for the West in those dim pre-historic ages.

The coast line of Norway has no equal and tourists from all over the world take this magic trip in July and August. Time and space forbids a lengthy description of this magic trip. Suffice it to say that we not only sailed up on the "The Midnight Sun" and sailed back on the "Polar Lights" (names of ships), but we landed at Neptune (name of hotel).

Delteraalens Avis

The local weekly newspaper on Hadsel Island announced my arrival at the top of the center column on the front page in the issue of September 7, 1954.

THE ETYMOLOGY of the NAME HADSELL

The parent language of the name is undoubtedly the twaddle of early Norwegian sailors, modified by the twang of early Anglo-Saxon and the cockney dialects of English, Norman and Latin.

Hadsell is an uncommon name and easily traced. The distinctive feature is the consonant "d" followed by "s" in the middle of the name. These letters do not ordinarily go together, which is strong evidence that originally they were parts of two separate words combined. Observe the difficulty in pronouncing "d" and "s" together. The point of the tongue pressed tight against the front of the palate is exploded for "d", but to pronounce "s" the tongue has to take an entirely different position to make the hissing sound of "s". This accounts for the misspelling of the word so often by those who hear it for the first time. Almost invariably for the sake of euphany they will spell it with a, "n", "s", or "k", in the place of the "d".

Yet, in spite of the difficulty in pronouncing "d-s" the family, down through the centuries have persisted in retaining this distinctive feature. This persistence is seen in the spelling of the early census takers of 1790 and 1800. When the family insisted on the "d" the census taker often spelled it with two "d's",—Hadsdell. In 1810 the name is spelled right.

Many are troubled about the different vowels used by different segments of the family. The "o" prevailing in England and the "a" and "e" in America. Some think that if the name is not spelled exactly the same, they are not related or belong to the same family. This is not so. When one is aware of the differences in the prevailing sounds used in dialects it is easily understood. This is much more noticeable in England, where prevailing sounds in one locality are so different that they can hardly be understood by their neighbors in a different locality only a few miles away.

VARIATIONS IN SPELLING

To those who may be puzzled about the variations in spelling may we quote an astute genealogist.

"The spelling of surnames was not an exact science—but "the best surnames in the course of years had many variations and transposition of letters and "generally underwent as many chops and changes as their owners."

The dialict of Edenbridge, England locality never pronounces the "h" sound in a word. There our name is often spelled Adsell, Odsell, or Edsell—but historians finding it thus misspelled add "(alieu Hadsell)". In other localities of England as in Northern Norway there is a tendency to use a broad drooling sound for a, e, and o. On Hadsel Island it is pronounced Hossoll, and the "d" is silent. In England the "o" is pronounced as in odd, so they more often spelled it Hodsoll. When the family history in England was written it was standardized and spelled Hodsoll.

In studying the Hodsoll pedigree chart, you will find by observing closely the spelling, that some 20 times the "a" or "e" is used instead of "o." Notice especially the Henry Hadsell baptized 1673, and his line. On Parish records, wills, tax and land records the "a" and "e" is used over 50 times, which to me proves beyond a reasonable doubt that it is all one and the same family, to which we all belong.

When they came to America the first records here spelled the name Hedsoll and Hodsoll, but the prevailing sounds in America were quicker and shorter and soon it was spelled almost entirely with the "a" or "e." The James—James line and the Nathan and Isaac lines used Hadsell and the Joseph line that went into Wyoming Valley Pennsylvania used Hadsall.

OTHER VARIATIONS

In my research I found several interesting features. My grandfather's family always spelled it Hadsall, but my father after he came to Nebraska, used the "e." The story is told about a girl marrying a Hadsall. In their town was a gossip named Sall whom she disliked very much. She said she wasn't going to have Sall in her name so she changed it to sell.

In a northern Connecticut town two young Hadsell cousins had the same given name at one time. The letters from the girl of one would be opened by the other, so one of them had his name changed to Hadselle. His descendants in eastern N.Y., still spell it with the extra e on the end.

Prof. Fred Hadsel of Miami University said it was more reasonable to spell it with one "l," so his family spells it Hadsel as it is spelled on Hadsel Island.

Whatever the cause for these slight variations in spelling remember we all belong to the same family.

By far the greater number in America spell it Hadsell, and as that seems to me to be more euphonic I spell it thus through out this genealogy. Our English cousins still cling to the "Hodsoll" spelling.

Having traced the origin and evolution of the name Hadsell through many generations and many languages, I have come to this conclusion, at least as far as I am able to determine, that it had its original source in the old legends of the Hadsel Viking whose habitation and plantation was at Hadsel on Hadsel Island—far above the Arctic Circle, off the northern coast of Norway.

Torfinn Oftedal, attache to the Royal Norwegian Legation to the U. S. in Washington, D. C., in 1940 writes, "The name Hadsel originates from a small place in the Lofoten Islands. I feel certain that it has no connection with the German name Hansell or the Swedish name Hanson, or the Norse name Hassel which means "Hazel."

Nordic Characteristics

What type of men are found among the mountains and along the rugged coast and fjords of Norway?

Physically they are tall, strong, blond, fair hair, blue eyes, and long headed.

Socially, I found them congenial, amiable, jolly and hospitable but independent. Staunch individualism is their hall mark, combined with a deep respect for justice and the social virtues. They are unequalled in steadfastness and courage and with an adventurous spirit.

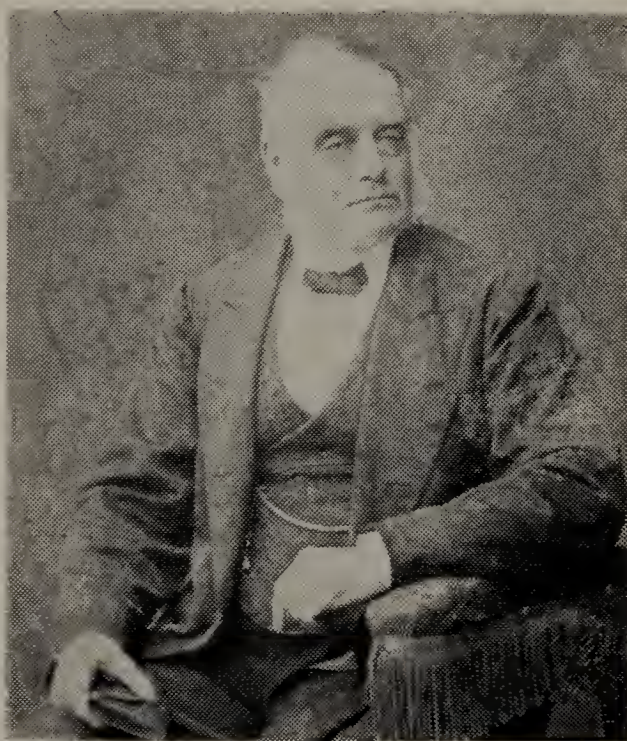

They have no desire for uniformity. They are a remarkable people—sane, virile, and wholesome—a race at home on the sea from time immemorial.

CHARACTERISTICS

I was intrigued by the similarity of the physical traits of the typical Norwegian girls on Hadsel Island and the typical Hadsell girls of America. I showed the picture of my granddaughter, Patricia Avalon, to many of these Norwegian people and almost invariably I would get some such exclamation as, "She is absolutely Norge,"—fair complexion, deep blue eyes, and flaxen tresses. Hence, the genes of the viking persist for over a 1,000 years in spite of the intrusion of Anglo-Saxon blood, the Norman Conquerors and the American Revolution and in spite of the change in language, climate or continent.

Patricia Avalon

Compare the typical Hadsell of England with the typical Hadsell sire in America and note the similarity in spite of the lapse of 300 years of separation.

Hadsel Island

"Hodseloen" (Latin spelled) and Helgoland and this Arctic North was first called "Ulvolen" or "Ylfi" meaning wolf or wild. It was bound in ice and snow. As the tropical currents caressed and melted this ice bound wild, there arose huge mountains like a hoisted sail, on a beautiful island. On the coves between the mountain and the sea the ancient explorers found a place of habitation. Archaeological research has established the fact that for centuries people lived here secluded and safe where the soil was fertile, food was abundant, and fish easily caught, in spite of the short summers and the long winters.

No place on the face of the earth seems to have so many natural resources that would contribute to a sturdy and resourceful race of people. To name a few are:

- (1) The Isolated spots for safe habitation
- (2) The endless resources of obtainable food supply
- (3) The stimulating climate
- (4) The enchanted scenery—mountains, sea and sky
- (5) The irresistible urge for daring adventure, first to the neighboring islands visible just across narrow fjords, and then the luring of the vaster expanses out in the mighty deep.

Stokmarknes (population 1,000) is the largest city on the island. It is the headquarters of the Vesteraalen Steamship Company founded in 1881. This company possesses a fleet of 16 vessels, three of which are on the costal express route from Bergen to Kirkenes in the land of the Midnight Sun.

Knee-Deep in Fish

The Lofoten Islands including Hadsel is the center of the world's largest fish industry in which over 50,000 men are employed. Here on Hadsel Island is the most modern fish treating plant in the world and I never saw such potatoe patches as those on Hadsel Island, white with bloom in the latter part of August.

As we entered Hadsel Fjord we witnessed a scene of marvelous beauty and mysterious loveliness. It was more like the imagined landscape of a fairy tale than real. An exquisite blue haze pervaded the panorama. As the sun sank a light mist becomes tinged with subtle tints of pink and rose. The smooth water reflected the amber and opal like tones of the sky and the peaks of the mountains were lit up by a myriad of shades and colors produced by the sun's specter.

History comes to life with new vividness as one comes to Hadsel Island and there envision our ancient forefathers trodding this sacred soil and sailing these deep blue fjords. On a sunny day as one responds to the glories of the panorama with its thousand shades, one becomes almost intoxicated with the wild, yet sublime scene which lies unfolding before one's eyes. In this land of magic and legend, one can easily imagine how real the many strange tales were that came from the souls of those stern, hardened, experienced sailors. Some of which are mentioned in the Sagas.

Hadsel Island is quite a wonderland considering the latitude. Its well-cultivated fields, its garden valleys, its forests and mountains make it attractive.

To every Hadsell descendant who loves romance and wishes the history of his ancient ancestors to come to life, I recommend this trip as the experience of a lifetime.

Hadsel Church on Hadsel Island

My brief introduction into this ancient past where our early ancestors lived, will I hope, whet the appetite of many Hadsells in the future. The following quotation expresses forcibly a great truth. "The Viking age records a mighty activity, a quenchless life, which the highest art of the historian can never fully revivify in half its natural fire and beauty."

Read the fascinating stories of the vikings which began about 793 A.D. and their expeditions as described in the sagas of Snorre Sturlason. Also read VIKING SHIP CROSSES THE ATLANTIC, by Alfred A. Holm.

On Hadsel Island is Hadsel church and pastoral residence, the central jurisdiction for the Lutheran Hadsel parish, which includes a large number of churches on the neighboring islands.

Before Cardinal Nichols from Rome in 1152 converted many of these pagan worshippers to Christianity and built a Christian church on the spot, the place, now called Hadsel, may have been the meeting place for the worshippers of Thor, Odin and Frigg.

The first record of the name "Hadsel" I found is in a Latin agreement between the archbishop and the pastors in Helgoland. In these agreements (1321) it is spelled Hofdasegle in which the pastors are to pay to the archbishop 20 fish annually. In 1355, 1381 and 1430 the "f" was dropped and it was spelled Hodasegle. The exact meaning of the word is not quite sure. It was a combining of two words. "Hofda" meaning high or hoisted, and "Segl" meaning sail. It conveys the idea of a great broad sail like those used on the viking ships. The farm called Hofdasegle lies under a high flat topped mountain which looks like a huge sail from a distance. It was probably the sight the sailors and fishermen far out at sea looked for to guide them home, and probably, however it was spelled, they called it their hoisted huge sail landmark. Hence, the farm underneath the mountain took the name and the viking who claimed this farm and became the feudal lord was also named Hofdasegle. It was the custom in those days of giving a family the same name as the place he lived.

It is interesting to follow through the evolution and changes in form and meaning of the original Hofdasegle and see how it finally took the form and meaning of Hadsel.

Gradually the name of a place was applied to the name of a family and later to the center of authority of a religious diocese. Hofda which originally meant high began to take the meaning of head or chief and Segl meaning sail acquired the added meaning of a notary seal or legal authority.

The tendency in all dialects is to run words and sounds together to form a single idea. The other important factor is the prevailing sounds in a dialect. In some dialects the vowels are given a broad drawling sound to such an extent that the consonant letters are gradually lost and become silent in their pronouncing of the word even if the silent consonants are retained at least for a while in the spelling of the written word. These two tendencies are very noticeable in northern Norway and in some parts of England.

In Norway they still pronounce Hadsel, "Hossel" and hence Hofdasegle found in the early records, 1661 and following is spelled Hassell. But in the 18th century when historians began to search the original sources they found that Hassell was an extreme vulgarizing of the original name, Hofdasegle, so it was changed back to Hadsel, more in keeping with the evolution and pronunciation of the original name HofdaSegle.

FEROCIOUS PAGANS BECOME CHRISTIANS

Historians have described these early ancestors as a race of ferocious pagans, worshippers of Thor, Odin, and Frigg, led by wild bloodthirsty Sea Kings. The following are some of the names given these ancient gentlemen: Eric Bloodaxe, Harold Wartooth, Wolf the Unwashed, and Thorkel the Skull Splitter. But let there be no mistake they were the gentlemen of their day.

If those were the original characteristics of this race it was changed somewhat by Olaf the Saint 1015-1030 and his missionaries through "monkish church laws," conditioning the mind by ritual and softening the manners by the spirit and precepts of Christianity.

These sturdy independent people could not long be subject to the Roman monkish church laws and priest craft. Rasmus B. Anderson in his introduction to the four volume set of "The Sagas" expresses the contempt of the people in these words, "They (the Catholic Monks) were making history the dullest of chronicles. The monks were ignorant of the world beyond their convent walls and were recording the death of their Abbots, the legends of their founders and the miracles of their Saints as most important history." After years of bitter strife the people of Norway overcame the nobles and clergy and established the more democratic Evangelical Lutheran Creed as the state religion.

CONQUERED ENGLAND

Norse names are scattered all over England. The historic annals of the expeditions of these early ocean explorers is scanty and obscure, but it is well established that for over 200 years—from 787 to 1066—they were the terror of western Europe and the British Isles.

"These vikings were as keen for the fray
As for a feast
A gallant sight it was to see
Their fleet sweep over the dark blue sea
Each warship with its threatening throat
Of dragon fierce or serpent head
Grim gaping from its prow."

In 845-6 the vikings fleet came up the Thames, stormed Canterbury with great slaughter and went on to London. They conquered Kent, Essex and went on to Surrey, and in 851 they wintered on English soil and remained 236 days plundering far and wide.

The settlement of these Norse men in Kent and other parts of England was large for four generations before the Norman conquest. It must have been during this time that our ancestors came to Kent. Here in the Garden of England the Hofdasegle-Hadsel-Hodsoll family found a desirable place for a permanent habitation, and have left authentic records of this fact down to the present time.

OUR ENGLISH ANCESTRY

Tradition in America has always had it that two or three brothers came from England to America soon after the pilgrims landed. Hence, I was always anxious to connect our family with our English ancestors.

CHRIS WARE

Sir John Hodsohl, who heads up Civil Defense in Great Britain, at home with Lady Hodsohl and their seven-year-old twins, Charlotte and Caroline

On August 5, 1950, an article was printed in Colliers magazine giving an account of Wing Commander Sir John Hodsoll who headed up the Civil Defense in Great Britain. This article states, "Mr. Civil Defense of Great Britain is Sir John Hodsoll custodian of the best Anglo-Saxon traditions including the Order of the Bath. His family dates back to the Thirteenth Century and boasts of crest bestowed by Richard I for services rendered." General Eisenhower called upon this Hodsoll during the Normandy Invasion for a mobile column of 200 men made up of Civil Defense volunteers who crossed the channel to defend the docks on which victory hung. This mobile column was officially credited with saving the lives of thousands of our soldiers and civilians in Belgium and Holland. Hodsoll was dubbed a knight for his Civil Defense Generalship in 1944.

Through this Sir John Hodsoll I was put in touch with his cousin, Lt. Col. Frank Hodsoll, of Los Angeles, California, an English official in the Philippines, who gave me leads upon the Hodsoll family in England. This Frank Hodsoll was born on Great Alice Street, White Chapel, London, England, May 23, 1885, and was distinguished in the English Army for his long service, and as a result, the armed services provided him with a pedigree of his Hodsoll ancestors back to the 11th Century.

RESEARCH IN ENGLAND

In going to England in 1954 I found first that the Hadsells in America are undoubtedly descendants of this ancient Hodsoll family, and second that the pedigree of this family had been recorded from authentic documents which date back as far as the Norman Invasion.

The first connected pedigree of this Hodsoll family is found in the Reliquary-Quarterly Archaeological Journal and Review a depository of precious records and relics, legendary, biographical and historical, edited by L. Jewitt, FSA, Vol. 18, p. 217. A later connected pedigree is found in the Archaeologia Cantiana of the county of Kent, Vol. 14, pp. 223-240. Other references are found in the Visitation of England and Wales, Vol. 10, pp. 1-4, and Vol. 11, pp. 52-53. The Visitation of Kent, pp. 1663-1668, and the Landed Gentry of Kent, 1952 Edition by Burks.

In this Archaeologia Cantiana is a chart of the ancient family of Hodsoll compiled by James Greenstreet upon which is the Hodsoll original coat of arms and the later coat of arms of Hodsoll of Ightham. There are also the wills of John Hodesole, 1423; William Hodesole, 1455; William Hodsole of Ash, 1499; Thomas Hodsall of Ash, 1537; William Hadsoll of Denton, 1550; John Hodsele of West Molling, 1556; William Hodsoll of Ash, 1616; Thomas Hadsall, 1665; Elizabeth Hodsoll, 1671; Henry Hodsoll of Shipbourn, 1700; Edwin Hodsoll of St. Marys Cray, 1711; Maxfield Hodsoll of Rotham, 1712; and references as to where these wills are found in the archives of public records in London and Kent. The church records are also given for the parishes of Ash, Hadlow, Ightham, Plaxtol, Shipbourn, and Rotham. These church records are very revealing as to the way the ancient name was spelled. The prevailing English spelling is Hodsoll from 1588 to 1788 but in the 16th and 17th century it was spelled Hadsel and Hadsell many times.

The name is distinctive and unusual—easy to trace by authentic records.

Anthony R. Wagner of the college of arms archives in London carried out extensive work on the Hodsoll family in preparing Lt. Col. Frank Hodsoll pedigree. He says “to the best of my belief there is only one family in England of the name and it is therefore highly probable that anyone bearing this name is descended from this family. There are of course a number of the sons of the earlier generations whose line we did not attempt to follow down, but which possibly could be followed down.”

THE COAT OF ARMS

In the days of chivalry it was an emblem of unstained purity and honor. The adornment was on an Azure (sky-blue) background. The fountains were of a rare shining silver luster. The variegated crosses were Ermine (the finest pure white fur of the weasel). For contrast the jet-black tip of the weasel's tail is inserted. Engrailed with a “Heraldic bordure” (small concave curves) variegated with twenty hues. The martlets (a European martin) was of a metallic silver luster. If we could only reproduce it in color.

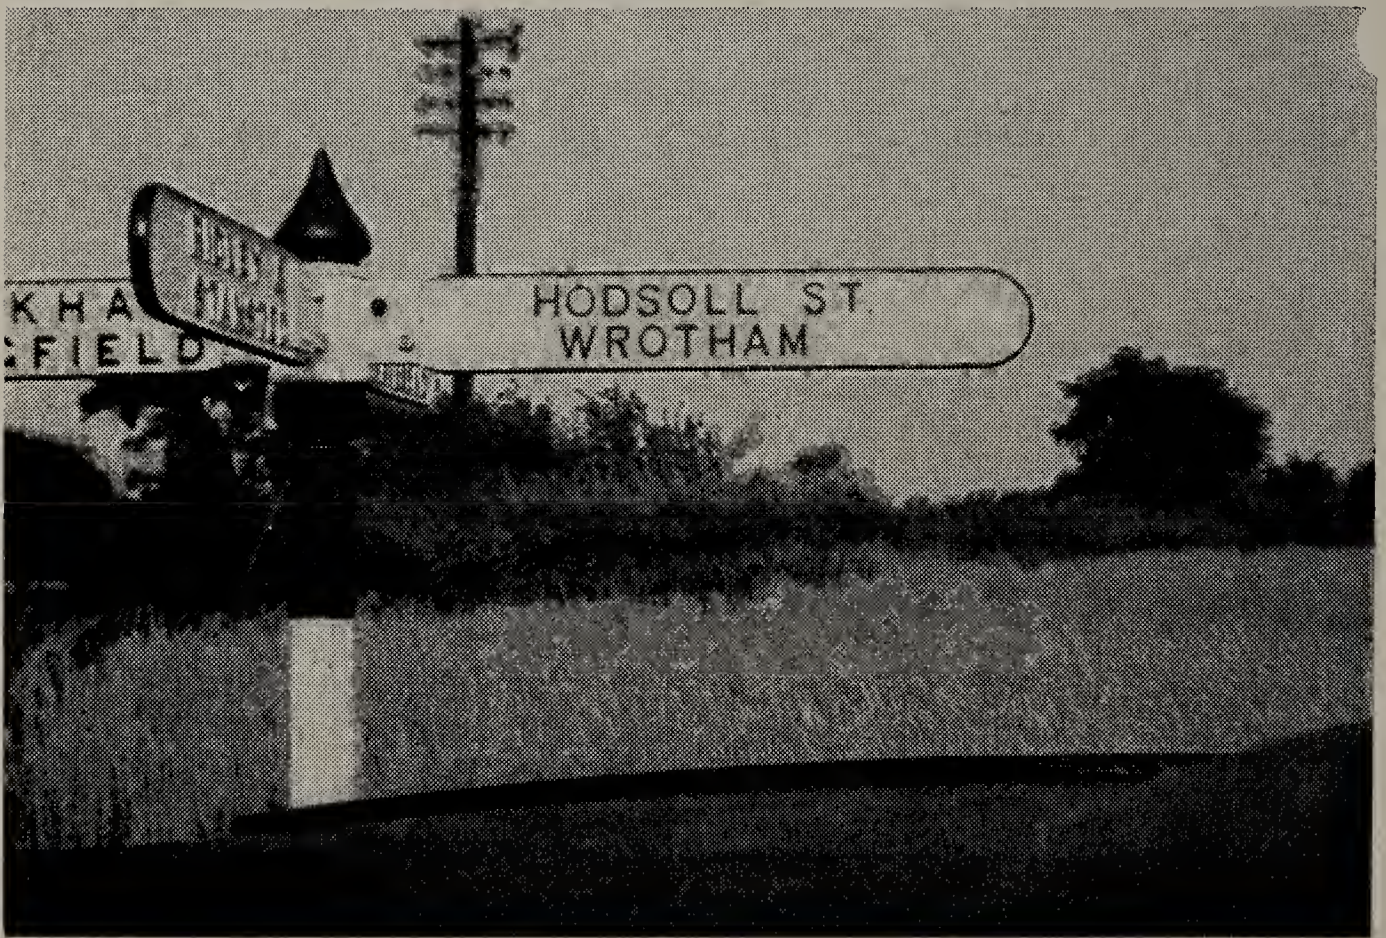

Rooted Deep in the Garden of England for Over 400 Years

It was of interest to know that the name Hadsell-Hodsoll is not found all over England, but within a somewhat restricted area. For hundreds of years they lived within a radius of some 25 miles of Hodsoll street. The major part of them were landed Gentry deeply rooted in the garden of England, for over 400 years.

Hodsoll Family of Kent, England

A connected pedigree of the Hodsoll family of Kent does not begin until the reign of Henry VII, 1485. However records of this ancient family occur from that time backward to the days of King Richard II, 1377; and more isolated mention is recorded as early as Nov. 7, 1198, where Ralph de Hodeshole in recognizance of "Mort d ancestor" acknowledges the right to two parcels of land in South Fleet.

A corner road sign pointing to the village of Hodsoll Street, Kent, England.

HODSOLL STREET is a hamlet in the district of South Ash, Kent. It got its name from the HODSOLL family who first leased it from the Benedictine Nunnery of Holywell. After the dissolution of the Sisterhood it passed into the hands of Hodsolls.

ENTRANCE TO HODSOLL STREET

The Ancient HODSOLL HOUSE stands at the entrance to the village of HODSOLL STREET. It is now used (1956) as the Post Office. The first story was built about 1500 of flint rock masonry that will stand for a thousand years. The second floor rafters and beams are split tree trunks with the bark still on one side. Late decorators found news papers on the walls describing Napoleon Bonaparte.

THE MANOR OF SOUTH ASH

William Huddyshole, or Hudsoll came in possession of the Manor of South Ash under the reign of King Henry V, about 1400. Mr. John Huddysole owned it under Henry VIII (1509) whose son of the same name succeeded, as was the latter by William Hodsoll, Gent, who died in 1585. They bore for their arms, "Azure, a fess wavy, between three stone fountains, or wells." Philipott conjectures that these wells alluded to the name of Halywell, or Holywell, having as above observed, been tenants of the priory for their estate in this parish. This Holywell was just back of Holywell cottage in Holywell park on Hodsoll Street). From William Hodsoll, this manor, and Hodsoll Street continued in an uninterrupted line of ownership to William Hodsoll of Dartmouth and South Ash, who died in 1776, and by will left them on the demise of his widow to his cousin, Mr. Charles Hodsoll, of Ash, who became possessor of them. (Ref. Ireland's History of Kent, Vol. IV, p. 420). In the nave of this church is a stone for William Hodsoll of South Ash, and among the monuments and inscriptions are many more memorials of this family. (Ibid, p. 422).

LOOKING DOWN HODSOLL STREET

The village green is on the right. On the left is the Inn, called "GREEN MAN,"—which refers to the old english bowmen who wore green uniforms. Here is supposed to be the origin of the Britist Royal Green uniforms, which history in the United States describes as being worn by the British infantrymen who took part in the Wyoming Valley Massacre in Pennsylvania, U. S. A.

HOLY-WELL COTTAGE is across Hodsoll St. Village green

The Holy-Well Cottage originally housed a Benedictian Nunnery. It is an ancient flint-rock structure. Between the Cottage and the white gate to the right is the entrance to Holy-Well Park. Behind the cottage, in the park is the Holy-Well, from which the symbols on the original Hodsoll coat of arms derived their origin.

COAT OF ARMS

In the days of chivalry, persons of high estate bore a distinguishing mark upon their shield. At first, a medieval knight was free to choose whatever mark or device that pleased his fancy. This mark or symbol was brilliantly emblazoned upon the surcoat, a long loose garment which was worn over the body armor and closed helmet; hence, the name, coat of arms. The first Hodsoll coat of arms recorded was azure, a fims wavy, between three stone fountains or wells, argent. Later, William Hodsoll, 1588, married Elizabeth Gratwick of Cowford, the only child of John Gratwick, Gent., whose coat of arms was a cross engrailed Ermine, and in the dexter chief a martlet argent. With the end of the Gratwick family, their son combined the two family coat of arms, marshalled the charges by quartering the shield, putting the father's coat of arms on the first and fourth quarters (called dexter chiefs) and those of his mother on the second and third quarters, and the Hodsoll coat of arms then became a more intrinsic design composed of diagonal quarters of three fountains on the first and fourth quarters and the martlet on the second and third quarters, with more heraldic embellishments outside of the escutcheon. The motto in Latin inscribed below is:

AUT BIBAT-AUT ABEAT

A free translation means "drink freely from the fountains if you wish, if not go your way."

In other words it was a motto expressing a prevailing individualistic trait and characteristic of the Hadsell clan—"do as you please" or "live and let live."

HODSOLLS A RELIGIOUS FAMILY

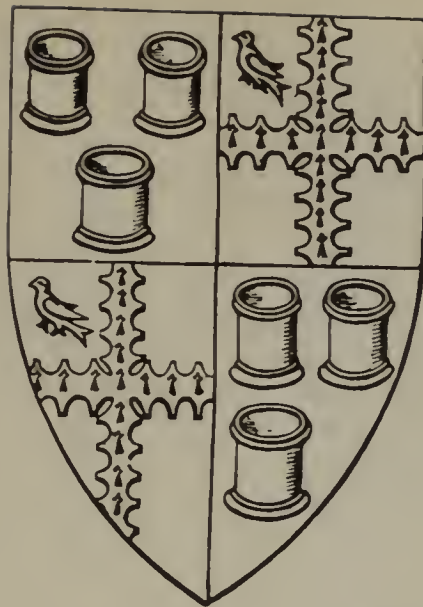

The following will give us a little insight into the religious life of this ancient family. Before the Reformation the Roman Catholic Church obtained vast holdings in Kent. How did the church get possession of these vast holdings? The credulous devotees were taken advantage of by a greedy, grasping Ecclesiastical Hierarchy, who preached poverty and obedience as the cardinal virtues receiving the greatest reward in heaven, while they failed to practice what they preached, and made a fraudulent scheme or racket of religion as the following illustrates.

THE WILL OF JOHN HODSOLE, made 1-27-1423 and probated 2-20-1423, was written in Latin, evidently by the priest, on his death bed. It is of interest from many standpoints. Freely translated abstracts of its contents follow:

2. He leaves to the high altar therein, for small tithes forgotten and for prayers for his soul 6s.8d.
3. To buy a cow, to maintain a light to the Virgin, 10s.
4. To buy a cow to maintain a light before the cross 10s.

13. To each of his godsons and goddaughters, 12d.
14. To the Carmelite brothers of Aylsforde, to celebrate masses for his soul—without fraud and deception for one year 13s.4d. & $\frac{1}{2}$ a $\frac{1}{4}$ of wheat.
15. To a suitable chaplain to celebrate masses for his soul at Assche for 2 years 20 marks.
16. To 3 priets named, a gown each, and 10s; & 40d.
17. For his funeral expenses 10 lbs. To the poor 7 marks. To distribute among his family 20s. at the discretion of his executor.
18. To John Yedley 13s.4d. and the residue divided equally between his wife, Marguret and his son, William. After Wm. & Tom Barbour the executors get 13s.4d. Thus the heirs of the dying man were robbed of their inheritance.

HODSOLL SHRINES

The beautiful church of Ash, next Ridley where, the parish register records 20 Hodsolls—1588-1642.

The window to the right is the Hodsoall chapel where at least 10 marble slabs on the floor are inscribed with Hodsoll names and dates. Cut in marble monuments to William 1586 and William 1616 is the coat of arms. Over the alter is a marble plaque to B. Hodsoll and in the yard outside are many large stones of ancient Hodsoll names and dates.

The moiety of Chepsted also belonged to William Hodsoll of South Ash and Dartmoth, who died in 1776. He left two thirds of this property to the heirs of the late Edward Hodsoll . . . of St. Mary Cray. (Ibid, p. 426).

ST. MARY CRAY

Ancestral Worship

I had a strange experience at the Sunday morning Worship service in the church of St. Marys Cray.

I sat in the ancient Hodsoll pew in the Hodsoll chapel, while the choir chanted and the priest intoned the ritual. Under my feet were engraved marble slabs over the graves of ancient Hodsolls. Around the walls hung marble slabs enscribed to the memory of other Hodsolls. Thus environed and sitting in reverence, it was not difficult to imagine the spirits of our ancient ancestors hovering overhead.

I begin to feel and see how a sensitive and superstitious person thus worshipping with his ancestors could easily become an ancestral worshipper.

Outside this Hodsoll chapel window was a Hodsoll vault and many other stones, marking Hodsoll graves.

CHURCH OF PLAXTOL

The parish register of the Plaxtol church records 18 Hodsolls—5 deaths, 2 marriages and 11 baptisms; spelled many times Hadsell between the years 1650 and 1741.

The church at Cowford, Surrey also records many Hodsell members.

Evidence of Connecting Links

The first Hadsell landing in America is recorded as coming from Cowfer, England, in 1635, and in the same year Bennett Hodsoll (Mrs. Edmond Freeman) comes from Cowford, England. Cowfer is undoubtedly a misspelling for Cowford, (Surrey County, England) where there is a record of a large family of Hodsolls.

There were many sailors in the Hodsoll family, both in England and America. James Hodsoll (1669-1709) Commander of his Majesty's ship, the Squirrel, was the son of a Captain John Hodsoll of Ash, Kent. In the will of James Hodsoll is the following: "Unto my nephew James Hodsoll, son of my brother William, deceased, I give all such wages and table money as shall be due him for the time he shall be with me as a volunteer on her Majesty's ship, Squirrel, aforesaid." This will was probated March 18, 1710, and this young man, James, undoubtedly shows up in New London, Connecticut, in 1721, and becomes the father of the James, James, James Hadsell, so prolific in America. This Captain James returns to England and either is lost at sea or dies.

There was a large Hodsoll family in England between the years 1635 and 1700, and it seems to me that it would have been most unusual had not some of the young men of such a virile family come to America, when everybody was talking about it and so many were coming and especially since several of these Hodsolls were ship captains sailing the high seas.

HODSOLLS SAILING THE HIGH SEAS

The picture of Captain John Hodsoll shows him on his last voyage as Captain of the Mail steamer of the Union Castle Co. returning from South Africa to South Hampton, about 1890. Near Cape-town they run into a terrible storm. For three days and three nights he was out on the deck fighting the storm. He contracted pneumonia, reached home and died.

The steam ship Co. assisted in the training of his young son, Eric John, later called Wing Commander Sir John. He was sent to the school at Horsham, Sussex, where Chas. Lamb and Samuel Colridge were educated. The students wore long blue robes with belts and yellow stockings.

This Captain JOHN HODSOLL, belonged to a typical English Hodsoll family. His father was Samuel Frances Hodsoll, b 8-11-1848, a printer at White Chapel, East London,—the son of Charles, b 12-2-1778 in the main line of South Ash (see the middle column left end of the chart “Loose Court Branch”).

This Captain JOHN HODSOLL had four brothers, FRANK, GEORGE, ALFRED and WILLIAM; and 3 sisters, ELIZABETH, EMILY and ALICE. FRANK HODSOLL had one son, LT. COL. FRANK HODSOLL, b 5-23-1885, who now lives in Los Angeles, California. He has one son, FRANCES SAMUEL HODSOLL, b 5-1-1938. GEORGE HODSOLL, b about 1855, d 1932, had issue (7) HERBERT, b 1881, has a son Richard Frank (called Dick), b 1918 (unm. It was at their home, at 6 Queen's Court, Warham Road, South Croydon that I made my headquarters while I was in England doing research. FRANK, b 1893, was killed in the first World War. Issue

CONSTANCE, MAUD, GLADYS and EILEEN. ALFRED HODSOLL, was a ship-officer (called Purser), who lived at Exmouth, Devonshire, England and had two girls. WILLIAM HODSOLL, died in 1951; migrated to Toronto, Canada and has one son, MARTIN HODSOLL, who in turn has two sons living near Toronto, Canada.

This CAPTAIN JOHN HODSOLL (see picture above) had only one son, IRIC JOHN HODSOLL (called Sir John Hodsoll), Wing Commander, secretariat of the Committee of Imperial Defense, as under Secretary of State. From 1938 to 1948, he was Inspector-General, when he becomes Director-General of Training. In April 1954 he was appointed Chief Technical Adviser to the United Nations Civil Defense Committee. He has twin daughters, Charlotte and Caroline.

HADSELL SAILORS

John Hadsoll, 1622-1683, was also a sailor as was his son, James, 1669-1710, Captain of H.M.S. "Squirrel." His nephew James, son of William, was a captain who settled in America, 1720-1736. The history of the family in England mentions other members of the family sailing the seas. Among them is Captain John Hadsoll called, Jack.

Not only the lure of the new world attracted them, but the conditions in Kent, England, would force some to go. A petition in 1653 signed by 27,373 stated their grievances as follows: "There has been no age like unto this age. The times are unparalleled. Being the Cries in Kent against the great oppression of tythes, unjust justices and corrupt magistrates wherein the oppressed do declare the particulars of their suffering since the beginning of the late parliament. presents to the consideration of the Right Honorable Captain, General Cromwell of London, 1653."

Hodsoll Becomes Hadsell in the New World

During 1635-1700 there are several authentic records of Hadsells being in America but the records are disconnected and scarce.

Isaac Hodsoll is recorded on the pedigree chart of the Loose Cort Branch in England as having died in 1784, at the age of 28. This could be a mistake. He could disappear and they recorded him dead, but Isaac Hadsell turned up in the 1790 census at Hancock, Massachusetts, and on August 17, 1792, married Isabel Eldridge and had nine children. One of his prominent descendents is Kleber Hadsell of Rawlings, Wyoming, a great sheep man and President of the U. S. Wool Growers Association of America.

Undoubtedly with extensive research the connecting link could be found for the Joseph, whether he was descendent of some of the Hadsells that came earlier or whether he came direct from England. There seems to be no doubt that these American Hadsells are all from the same family and more or less closely related as they all settled in the same place near Westerly, Rhode Island, or across the river in New London, Connecticut.

EARLIEST COLONIAL RECORD

Richard Hadsell is mentioned as having come before 1645. Joseph Hadsell is mentioned twice in Conn. Colonial records in 1665 and 1677 regarding Guard Duty and Indian Relations.

John Hadsall, 24 years old, was a passenger on the Elizabeth Ann in 1635. This could be Hadsell. Thomas Hedsoll comes in 1635. John Hazell, the Baptist, fighting for religious liberty in the famous Obediah Holms case when he was whipped and imprisoned, and died as the result, in 1651 could be misspelled for Hadsell.

In the Killingsworth old town records is John Hadsell, m Marcy Cane 10-20-1701 and Mary Hadsall, with others, petition in 1704 for the establishing of the first Baptist Church in Conn. Ref. Am. New Haven Geneogical Magz., Vol. 10.

The Compendium of FIRST FAMILIES OF AMERICA, Vol. 5, p. 448 gives what is called "pedigree of Joseph Hadsell", as follows:

Richard Hadsell, b 1622, m Joan Bateman.

Joseph Hadsell, b 9-20-1645, m Mary Perry. Killed by Indian.

Joseph Hadsell, b 1675, m Hanna.

Joseph Hadsell, b about 1695 of Westerly, R.I.

With this Joseph, we find authentic records for his connected line, down to the present time.

HADSELL PIONEERS

Among the early settlers in New York, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado, Wyoming, Idaho, Oregon, Washington and California, were Hadsells, keeping abreast with the "Westward Ho!" movement.

These were times that tried men's souls, and it is fitting we pay tribute to those we know as well as to the unnamed, unknown and unsung heroes who helped fight our wars, defended our forts and frontiers, bravely endured the hardships and dangers, and pushed on and on to conquer and settle a continent.

An interesting volume could be written about the experiences of each one. The following is only a glimpse of a most fascinating picture, if we could see the whole of it.

The advertising prompters of that day were adept along that line as, a contemporary writer describes Col. Eliphalet Dyer, an eminent lawyer in the Connecticut Assembly.

"Cannan of old, as we are told,
Where it did rain down manna,
Wa'nt half so good, for heavenly food
As Dyer makes SUSQUEHANNA."

But the lot of those early pioneers along the Susquehanna River in Wyoming Valley Pennsylvania, was anything but rosy. At a meeting of the proprietors and settlers on Aug. 1, 1775, by action formally voted they joined the forces of the revolution. They were first harrassed by the Indians, then by the British, and later by their southern neighbors in the long drawn out Pennymite and Yankee War. A truer description of the actual conditions, given by an early writer follows——

WILD YANKEES

The settlers were poor, oppressed and persecuted. They had been impoverished and wasted by war, then the heavy arm of civil and military power was raised against them to crush them in the dust. Thus circumstanced their operations were tardy and their efforts feeble.

Their cause had never been explained to the public. Their oppressors avoided investigation, but roundly asserted that the controversy was decisively tried and that it was mere obstinacy in them not to submit to the final judgment of a lawful court. Their enemies were in a position of wealth and power, and means of propagating their ideas far and wide, and making an impression on the public mind. They were represented as a gang of lawless wild Yankees from Connecticut who had fled from justice and taken refuge in the back parts of Pennsylvania by violence and in defiance of the law. But the government listed blue laws published with a scare-crow proclamation would have done honor to the dark ages. ("History of Wyoming." By Charles Miner, Published, 1845).

GENUINE BLUE-BELLIED YANKEES

"Yankee" was a nickname given in derision, by the Dutch to the English Colonists from Connecticut, who settled in Pennsylvania. The name became a mark of distinction of which later descendants were proud. I remember the early pioneer-picnics in Nebraska. One of the main topics of conversation was their nationality and where they came from. When father mentioned the fact that they came from Pennsylvania some one would remark "then you must be Pennsylvania Dutch". Father resented this and replied quickly, "No sir. We were from Connecticut Genuine Blue-Bellied Yankees". It was a holdover from the animosities of his father, caused by the long drawn-out Pennymite-Yankee war. Yankee is now applied to all New England descendants.

Connected Pedigree Begins the Joseph Line

1. JOSEPH HADSELL b before 1695, d 9-25-1727, m 11-10-1715 Rachel, dau. Wm. & Mary (Sanders) Crumb. Joined together in wedlock by Peter Crandel, Justice of the Peace, in the bounds of Westerly, R.I. Occupation: farmer, blacksmith and boatman. Resided near Westerly, R.I.

November 13, 1727, the town council of Westerly grants Rachel Administratrix of Joseph's estate and assigns Theadaty Rhodes, John Maxon and John Hill appraisers. The inventory—a long list—includes a complete blacksmith shop, bellows, vice, anvil, and all the tools, horses, cattle, a long list of household goods, farm tools, a valuable boat, and a farm.

On March 29, 1742, she came before the council and gave accounting of her administration. She was allowed 78 lbs, 9s, 8d, for keeping her said dead husband's children. She m second time Obadiah Pendleton of Westerly.

OUR REVOLUTIONARY PATRIOT

This James Hadsell was one of the Proprietors of the Susquehanna Co. of Hartford, Conn., who received a charter granted by King Charles of England, giving them a quit claim to 16 square miles of land on both sides of the Susquehanna River in Penn. This grant was bolstered up with a purchase of some 10,000 acres from the Indians. James Hadsell sold his farm near Stonington, Conn., on October 23, 1761, and joined the first settlers who settled in Wyoming Valley in 1762 (14 years before the Wyoming Massacre). The next year, 1763, this infant settlement was attacked by the Indians and laid waste (See Pontiac War). Many of them were murdered and the remainder were driven away. Another attempt to settle was not made for over six years.

In 1769 a permanent settlement was made. At first 40 in number came, and for protection they erected a block house on the Kingston side of the Susquehanna River and named it Forty-Fort. Others followed, but up until 1772 there was never more than 130 people in Wyoming Valley.

In 1769 five townships were laid out, each five miles square and each offered to 40 families. They were to defend the same.

James Hadsell settled in Exeter Township, having title to a 600 acre tract of land along the Susquehanna River from the mouth of Sutton Creek, eastward including a large island in the river. He carried on farming and operated a tannery. In 1776 this James Hadsell, Sr. and James Sutton built and operated the first saw mill and the first Grist Mill in Exeter Township, Pa. These mills were destroyed by the Tories and Indians when the Hadsells and the Hardings were killed, June 30, 1778.

The lot of those early pioneers in Wyoming Valley was anything but rosy. At a meeting of the proprietors and settlers on August 1, 1775, by action formally voted, they joined the forces of the revolution. They were first harassed by the Indians, then by the British.

One of the most interesting historic events of the American Revolution was the Wyoming Massacre. It was rightly called "The Crowning Infamy of British Rule in America."

It was on June 30, 1778, that Colonel Butler, with his Tory Rangers, a detachment of John Johnsons Royal Green and some 600 Indians, chiefly Senecas and Cayugas, in all 800 men descended into Wyoming Valley. His Indian Scouts first attacked eight persons working in the field, and all were killed but one.

This was the beginning of what has been called "The Tragedy of Wyoming" when two days later they swooped down upon, and practically annihilated this Connecticut settlement, while most of the able-bodied men were absent, serving in the ranks of the Continental Army. Over 300 were massacred. Those that escaped fled and later returned with a larger inflow of settlers from Connecticut.

There are several historical accounts of what happened. Some differ in minor details.

THE MASSACRE

As the settlers increased, they built another fort near the present bridge in West Pitston and called it Jenkins Fort. It was at this fort, the uppermost in the valley, that on June 30, 1778, hearing rumors of probable trouble with the Indians, they gathered the families of those old patriots, John Jenkins, Esq., Hardings, Garners, Hadsells, all distinguished for their zeal, with others. Not appraised of the contiguity of the savages, on the morning of June 30th, Benjamin Stuckey and John Harding, the latter a boy, James Hadsell, Sr., John Hadsell, James Hadsell, Jr., Daniel Weller, John Gardner and Daniel Carr, took their arms, and went up about three miles into Exeter to their labor. Toward evening, at an hour when aid could not be expected, they were attacked.

The history states "Young John Hadsell remained in the canoe while the others were hoeing corn on the Hadsell Island. When he heard the firing, he fled to the woods. Being pursued, he ran to a log crossing on Suttons Creek. There being dense willows and brush near the crossing, he threw himself down under the log crossing and remained under the water with only his nose above the water so he could breathe. Here it is said that he heard the anguish and dying groans of his friends. The Indians, seeing him flee, pursued and searched for him. It is said that they crossed the very log under which he was hiding, and at one time they were so close to him that he could have reached out and touched them. Here he remained until after night fall and then under the cover of darkness he reached Fort Jenkins. He was the first to reach the fort and warn the settlers of the danger.

Another record says James Hadsell and his son-in-law, Daniel Carr, were captured by the Indians in Exeter Township, June 30, 1778. They were taken to a point about one mile east of the present village of Orange (Old Pincherville, Pa.) in Franklin Township, Luzerne Co., Pa., and there they were subjected to excruciating tortures from which they died. (Harvey's History of Wilkes Barre, Pa., pp. 988-989)

Still another record which goes more in detail as to what happened says that "The aforesaid James Hadsell and Daniel Carr were not killed outright on the first attack but that they were taken prisoners. That they were taken by the Indians a short way up Suttons Creek to an open clearing where they prepared to camp for the night and hold their Pow-Wow and celebration over the day's loot. They killed one of the Hadsell's oxen and had a great feast and dance. The old man, James Hadsell, and Carr were compelled to provide most of the so-called sport for these cruel savages. They were required to run the gauntlet where their bodies were mutilated. Finally they were killed and scalped, if they were not scalped alive.

William H. Culver, now past 88 years of age, and who lived his early life in this neighborhood, in the year 1940, showed me the spot where this terrible scene took place. It is near the Suttons Creek, on what later was known as the Bailes' farm, now in 1940 owned by Fred Snyder. It was just below the house of J. M. Swartwood. The history states that it was not until October 22nd that the settlers returned to these bloody fields to gather up the scattered bones of their lamented dead and buried them. History of Luzerne Co. says the bones of the Hadsells and the Hardings were gathered up and buried in this old Jenkins Cemetery. An ancient brown twin slab marks the spot near the east entrance to this cemetery. On this stone is carved the following words:

"In memory of Benjamin and Stukley Harding—who also were slain by the Indians June 30th, 1778. Benjamin age 25 yrs. Stukley age 23 years. Sweet be the sleep of those that prefer death to slavery."

GRANITE MONUMENT

On Highway No. 309 which was known as the Sullivan Trail, some seven miles northwest of West Pitston going toward Tuncannock, you will find a granite monument with an iron plaque which reads, "On June 30, 1778, in or near the river not far from this spot Benjamin and Stukley Harding were killed by Indians. Being the first that lost their lives in the days immediately preceding the massacre of July 3rd. Erected by Diel Rock chapter of the American Revolution June 30, 1921. This sight donated by P. F. Joice. This monument is on the old Hadsell claim. At the time this monument was erected, no Hadsell descendant was present to champion the right of the Hadsells to be on this monument.

JAMES HADSELL, REVOLUTIONARY PATRIOT

The national headquarters of the D.A.R. and S.A.R. have approved the eligibility for membership in these patriotic organizations the descendants of this James Hadsell.

6-5 JOHN HADSELL (James; Joseph) b 1754 in Stonington, Conn. was with his father and youngest brother James, when they were killed by Indians in 1778. The census of 1800 for Luzerne Co., Pa., lists John over 45, his wife under 45, with 5 males under 25 and 3 dau under 16.

Jan. 2, 1804, John was granted a certificate confirming the title to 278 acres of the estate of his father. Feb. 11, 1905, John sold his interest in this certificate to John Harding and the tax list of 1806 records "he had moved from Exeter." Tradition says he moved to Wyoming Co. Pa. We have not been able to do research on this John, but the census of 1850 gives John's age 70, in Folkston twp. Wyoming Co. Pa. This may be the son of John 1754 and the census of 1870 lists Susan, 80 years old, who may be his wife. Also are listed in the census the following:

ALFRED, b about 1810, with two sons John, b about 1862 and ALFRED E. b about 1867. Also listed are the following: BURTON, b 1824; AMANDA, b 1826; ALBERT, b 1838; SARAH, b 1844; ANDREW, b 1845; MARINA, b 1849; MARY, b 1852; ROSE, b 1867; ESTER, b 1856; SULER, b 1863; GILES, b 1830; WARREN, b 1943 and FRED, b 1858. I have no more data to record on this group.

7-5 EDWARD HADSELL (Jas., Jos.) born 12-2-1762 at Stonington, Conn., tradition says he died in 1866 at the age of 104 years. He was the third child of James and Content (Worden) Hadsell. He married Abigail Flint who was born in New York 11-28-1768. He had an issue of eleven children, the first nine born in Wyoming Valley Penn., and the last two in Martins Ferry, Ohio.

Issue (11) JAMES, b 3-20-1787, d 5-14-1885; EDWARD Jr., b 8-29-1789, d 10-27-1855 at Moundsville, W.Va.; ANNA, b 5-19-1791; CONTENT, b 6-30-1794; BENJAMIN, b 3-2-1796; SYLVESTER, b 6-16-1798; SETH, b 5-15-1800; REBECKAH, b 3-17-1802; ABIGAIL, b 5-16-1804; LUCY, b 12-17-1807; MARTHA, b 1-16-1810.

In tracing the whereabouts of Edward (1762), who left Penn., about 1805, the census records show Edward, with eleven in his family, in Exeter Township, Luzerne Co., in 1790 and 1800, and later in Pease Township, Ohio. In Pease Township, Belmont Co., Ohio, there was no census for 1810.

In the first census taken in 1820, we find on page 232, Edward Hatsel (note spelling) head of family consisting of two males and four females. This record definitely places Edward Hadsell and family in Martins Ferry, Belmont Co., Ohio, after 1805. In the 1850 census we find them in Pease Township, Belmont Co. Abigail Hadsell, 81 years old, born in New York. Edward Hadsell, Jr., and families went to Moundsville, south of Wheeling, Va.

No. 8 James

8-7 JAMES HADSALL (son of Edward (1762) Jas., Jos.), born 3-20-1787 in Exeter Township, Luzerne Co., Penn., m Elizabeth Smith 2-4-1810, the daughter of Mathew and Sarah (Hill) Smith, who was born 12-29-1795, died 3-10-1885. James died 5-14-1885 in his 99th year. This Mathew Smith was a Colonel in the English Army, and his wife Sarah Hill was a sister of David B. Hill's father. David B. Hill was a U.S. senator and one time governor of New York.

Issue (14) The two first born died in infancy, EDWARD, b 1-20-1813; d 1907; SALLY (Sarah) ANN, b 6-26-1815; d 12-16-1895; ELSIE, b 10-28-1817, d 6-6-1891; HENRY B., b 7-9-1820, d 3-16-1903; JAMES S., b 9-26-1822, d 5-30-1910; GURDEN C., b 12-20-1824, d 12-16-1910; ELIZABETH, b 2-15-1827, d 8-13-1838; HORATIO A., b 4-7-1829, d 8-14-1916; PENELOPE, b 4-1-1832, d 1-12-1916, m (1) Blackner (2) Burr, Penn.; GEORGE A., b 7-13-1834, d 2-15-1923 in Iowa; MARY A., b 9-17-1836, d 8-9-1926, m Lewis F. Shaver?, Isaac Mitchel, Penn.; MARGARET L., b 9-6-1839, d 7-4-1917, m Henry Leiphen, lived in Penn. ("Copied from mss. records of Mr. Stang, now deceased, Forty-Fort Library—and verified by several family Bible records").

This James Hadsall (born 1787) owned and lived on a little mountain farm in Franklin Township near what is now called Pincherville, Penn. In 1940, a widow Nora Diamond (P.O. Dallas R.F.D. #3) lives on the old James Hadsall farm. When James was 19 years old his father and all his brothers and sisters left Penn., and went to Martins Ferry, Belmont Co., Ohio. James was left behind and was what they called "bound out" to Samuel Sutton until he was of age. As a boy he helped Sutton run a mill and distillery on McMullen brook.

The old millstones that ground the grists were still on the spot in 1940. This millstone is some 5 feet across, plate-shaped and about a foot thick.

THE HADSALL SHRINE OF PENNSYLVANIA

This James Hadsall (1787) and his wife were first buried in 1885 in a little cemetery on the bank near the mouth of Suttons Creek. Only a few were ever buried there. Floods began to wash away the bank and it was decided to abandon this cemetery. In 1900, two of his grandsons, Wm. H. Culver and Henry Sands, the sons of Sally and Elsie, took up the remains of their grandparents and buried them in the center of the Beautiful Mountain View Cemetery. This was formerly called The Baldwin Cemetery, and is located on the Highway No. 309 or Sullivans Trail. It is on the tract of land granted the first James Hadsall, near the Monument that marks the place of his Massacre.

Mountain View Cemetery is enclosed by a well-laid, ancient, stone wall. Near the center is a nice granite monument on which is inscribed the following: "James Hadsall, Mar. 29-1787—May 14, 1885. Elizabeth Smith Hadsall, Dec. 29-1795—Mar. 10, 1885. Underneath in large letters is the word, "Hadsall."

I, (Willard L. Hadsall) happened to make my first visit to these parts, which might well be called the Penn. Hadsall Shrine, hallowed by time, and the sacred memories of so numerous descendants of these Penn. Pioneers, in 1900, the day after the graves were moved. Henry Sands told me this and it was substantiated by Wm. H. Culver in 1940 that when they opened the graves, the forms of our ancestors like a gauze lay intact, just as they had been buried 15 years before, but when the wind touched them that they crumbled into ashes and dust, except for some of the larger bones, the skulls, and some parts of the clothing. These were all carefully gathered up and reinterred in Mountain View Cemetery. Near the graves of the Hadsalls are the graves of their daughter, Sarah (Sally) Ann Culver, her husband Lewis Culver and five of their children: Eunice, James, Frances, Elizabeth and Sarah Culvers.

36-8 HENRY BEECHER HADSELL (Jas.; Ed.; Jas.; Jos.), 6th child of James (1787) was born in Luzerne Co., Penn., July 9, 1820, d 4-16-1903. He was married on May 14, 1842 to Nancy Diamond, the daughter of Isaac and Sarah Booth Diamond. They lived on a farm in Luzerne Co., Penn., where all of their children were born. From here his two oldest sons went to the Civil War (Charles and Isaac). About 1873 he went West and farmed in Saunders Co. Nebr., near Weston, Nebr. After his wife died, he sold his farm to his son, Charles, and moved to Weston, Nebr. Here he was postmaster for several years.

HENRY BEECHER HADSELL, 1851-1863

I have a little leather bound notebook 4 x 6 inches, of some 40 pages, which records his financial income each day, during years from 1851 to 1863, what he did and the amount he received. The following quoted from this account book is interesting. Besides caring for his little farm he supplemented his income by working for his neighbors.

"7-22-1851, cradeling 7 acres of rye, received $7.00.

Mowing seed clover three days, $3.00.

For one yoke of steers, $25.00.

Four days thrashing rye, $2.50 and 4 days thrashing seed clover $3.00.

4½ days sawing shingles, $2.80.

1852, worked for Albert N. Holmes, farming and chopping, hoeing, mowing, etc., at $1.00 a day.

1853, worked for George B. Holms, cutting 450 feet of lumber, $3.37½, hooping pork Bbl. 40 cents, scoring ties, $1.00 a day.

Digging cellar, stoning up cellar, $1.00 a day.

Cutting 2300 feet of boards, $23.00. Sheering sheep $3.50.

Scoring ties at $1.00 a day. Laying a wall, $3.50.

All these years, from 1851 to 1863 he records many other days work, butchering hogs and a beef, digging wells, laying stone walls, chopping timber, sawing lumber, planting grains, and thrashing grain, seldom ever getting more than a $1.00 a day and many days he worked for $.75 cents a day.

Charles and Isaac Hadsell

The two older boys of Henry Beecher Hadsell were Charles and Isaac. This account book also records the days they worked and their wages. Charles getting on the average of 50 cents a day and Isaac 35 to 40 cents a day, and their wages was always collected by their father to supplement the family income until the two boys enlisted in the Civil War.

37-36 CHARLES HADSELL (Henry B.; Jas.; Ed.; Jas.; Jos.) b Sept. 5, 1943, in Luzerne Co., Penn. During his younger manhood he worked out to help his father support the family and supplement the income from his little mountain farm. He served three years in the Civil War, 112 Reg. 2nd Penn., Heavy Art. In 1871 he came West and homesteaded in Saunders Co., a mile and a quarter east of Weston, Nebr., m on Feb. 25, 1874, at Fremont, Nebr., Caroline O'Kane, the dau of Daniel and Lucinda (Johnson) O'Kane of Polo, Ill., b July 8, 1850, d Sept. 20, 1913. Charles Hadsell was a successful farmer, dairyman, stock raiser, and bee man. He owned a section of rich Nebraska land along the Wahoo Creek. It was here all his children were born. From 1863, while he was in the Civil War to the time of his death he kept a diary, which records the daily history of his life and others with important events for over 60 (sixty) years. In 1900 he moved to Lincoln, Nebr., to give his children the advantage of a college education. In 1909 he went to San Patricio Co., Texas, and bought land. Here he spent the winters, d 11-19-1915, buried Weston, Nebr.

40-37 WILLARD LEROY HADSELL (Chas.; H. B.; Jas.; Ed.; Jas.; Jos.), was b near Weston, Nebr., May 30-1880, m at Omaha, Nebr., October 25, 1905, Erla Etta b at Youngstown, Ohio, Feb. 14, 1883, the only child of George W. and Lydia Lillian (Leonard) Coral. Erla Etta died in an auto accident Dec. 3, 1934. Willard L. Graduated from the Nebraska Wesleyan University in 1907, and from Drew Theological Seminary in 1910. He got his Masters degree from Columbia University, N.Y. City in 1910. He joined the Nebraska Conference and was a minister in the Methodist Episcopal Church for over 35 years. He was an Army Chaplain in the first World War, serving with the expeditionary forces in France.

Willard L. Hadsell, was a champion of certain reforms in the Methodist Episcopal Church and one of the leaders in the Pastors Council Movement. For ten years he published the "Pastors Council." He attended several general conferences, carrying on propaganda for reform legislation that would make the church more democratic, and religion more vital. In 1935 he was unjustly located by a conspiracy of certain ecclesiastics affected by these reforms. He still continued to preach in the Congregational Church. By thrift and economy he conserved and added to that portion of his fathers estate which came to him, so that in spite of seven years of drouth, bank failures, and hard times, by 1940, at the age of 60, he found himself in a comfortable situation financially. He attended the Uniting Conference at Atlantic City, N.J., which united the two Great Methodist Church. While in the East, he visited the historic places in New England, Pennsylvania, etc., where the early colonial Hadsells lived. He did some genealogical research work and visited many Hadsells and their descendents, in several states on his way home. Thus, he became more interested in the history and genealogy of his own ancestors. So, he decided to make this Hadsell Genealogy his hobby, through which he could pleasurably occupy his leisure time and also render a service to future generations of Hadsells who might take an interest in their family history.

Willard L. retired in 1948 and bought a large hotel at Avoca, Nebr. He made it into an old peoples nursing home. He makes his home at 4510 Baldwin Ave., Lincoln, Nebr. where he finished this family history.

(News-Register, Wheeling, West Virginia, Thur., Dec. 24, 1953) Today is the last day of operations for the Martins Ferry Coal mine, one of the last landmarks of the Wheeling Steel Corporation's early operations. Because of the exhaustion of the coal reserve, the mine will be closed down, officials of the company have announced.

The property was opened in 1874, so far as is known, by Joseph T. Hanes, who sold it later to the Laughlin Nail Co. From Laughlin it passed to the Whitaker-Glessner Co., which became part of Wheeling Steel in 1920.

For many years the coal was brought to the surface on the hillside immediately opposite Martins Ferry Factory. In 1945 a new portal was opened and a tippie erected on the rear of the property. At that time mechanical loading machines were installed, and the mine because one of the company's most efficient operations.

173-5 STEPHEN HADSELL (Jas.; Jos.) Born 1766 in Stonington, Connecticut. When a small boy, he moved with his parents to Wyoming Valley, Pennsylvania. When his father was massacred in 1778, he fled back to Stonington, Connecticut. Married Margaret and the census of 1790 lists Stephen Hadsell and wife with one son and one daughter under 16, at Stonington, Connecticut. Stephen Hadsell on 1-30-1796 was cited as of Stonington, New London County, Connecticut, when he sold to Lt. Joseph Black of Exeter his interest in the lands of James Hadsell as heir. A letter written November 17, 1856 by Ira Hadsell, a great grandson of Stephen through his first sons Wm. and John, says: "Stephen Hadsell, 1766, with his family first moved to Marion, N.Y. and settled some six miles north of Palmyra, N.Y., where three girls and a boy died prior to 1800. Then about that time he moved to Kingston Township, Luzerne Co., Penn., and later settled in Monroe Township, Wyoming Co., Pa. Prior to his death 1-17-1847, he had made his will in Northmorland, Wyoming Co., Penn. This will was probated at Tunkhannock Co., 11-26-1847, with his son Stephen, Jr. administrator. It refers to his wife Margaret but children are not named. He was buried near the center of a country cemetery called "Vernon". His grave is located by a large unmarked boulder, not too far from the marked graves of his son, Stephen Jr."

233-226 JAMES WELINGTON HADSELL (Edwin; Amos; Steven; James; Joseph), b 8-26-1858 near Riley Twp., McHenry Co., Illinois, six miles from town. quote from his story of his life as follows: "Wild and woolly West, 65 miles N.W. from Chicago. School privilages of the crudest and inefficient. Education limited to "read, write and figger," and work. Always had plenty of food, well prepared by a hard working but kind mother of eleven children. She made all our clothes, spinning the yarn knitting the socks, weaving and making my first underclothes. Oh! I well remember my childish pride when I put on my first flannels.

Going back of the orchard I removed my outter garments, and strutted back and forth for 40 rods on the old drain ditch bank in the bright sun light, to the great amusement if the neighbors $\frac{1}{4}$ mile away. Was I happy? Even mother seemed somewhat repaid by my appreciation."

James W. Hadsell was a deeply religious man. In February, 1910 he went to N.M. to recuperate his health. He regained his health but went broke financially. He bought a pair of Mexican burrows and an old buggy, a "three dollar outfit" and started on what he calls his first trail blazing, seed sowing, gospel tract distributing trip of 2,300 miles giving out over 43,000 gospel papers. Time, 7 months 3 days, speed $10\frac{1}{2}$ miles per day from Elpaso, Texas to Rockford, Illinois.

In 1921 he and his wife moved to Detroit, Michigan where he built up a Sunday School to over 3,000 members. After his wife's death in 1934, he traveled extensively on six different "Gospel Tract Trips," in almost every state in the union and many parts of Canada. Ending up with a three month of intensive City Tract work in Jackson, Mississippi. During World War II, given free liberty by the Sec. of War at Camp Grant, for 10 months he visited the camp almost daily putting over 171,000 tracts into the hands of our soldiers. He states he distributed over a total of $1\frac{1}{4}$ million free tracts, furnished by the "Lonizean Bro. Gospel Booklers" and "Tracts of New York City." This work was carried on as a faith work, no collections or appeals made or pledges solicited. "The Lord gave me perfect health and safety under all circumstances and in all places."

James W. Hadsell closes his autobiography with, quote—"It is my only ambition to keep on in this work until Christ comes, whether it long or short." He said, "My grace is sufficient." I believe it. Oh Lord Thou are enough for the mind and heart to fill." M at Rockford, Illinois in 11-8-1882 Mary Mills, who died 11-30-1934. Occupation "Jack of all trades," he says. Until 1935 a Tract Evangelist.

Ref: In his wide travels James W. never failed to contact every Hadsell, wherever he found them, and made a note of it. He has been of great help in establishing connections and furnishing leads for research.

239-216 CHARLES CHRISTOPHER HADSELL (6th of Amos; Steven; James; Joseph), was born in North Moreland, Luzerne Co., Pennsylvania, April 14, 1825. Moved to Illinois in 1846. Trip to California during the Gold Rush and came back to Kansas in May 1858.

After the Cygnes Kansas Massacre, Chas. Hadsell visited the spot he writes "The ground was still red with blood of the victims"—John Brown had already begun eviction of the 2 stone forts, where now stands the stone house erected by Charles Crystal Hadsall (p. 209 Linn Co., Kans. History). John Brown purchased the claim of Eli Snider. A description of the old John Brown fort is given "So far as the claim and the fort could belong to anyone, it belonged to Old John Brown by purchase from Eli Snider, "several eminent historians to the contrary notwithstanding."

Brown seldow had more than 2½ dozen men with him at the fort, but all along the Missouri line sentries were posted, and men reported to him regularly.

John Brown told Hadsell, he was content for him to have the place, provided he would agree to let John Brown occupy the fort at his pleasure.

"That day John Brown wrote out and signed a bill of sale to Hadsell and signed it by his own name and Snider who had a mortgage on it added his quit claim to the bill of sale and receipt for 3 yoke of oxen, cows, wagons and plows worth

Amos Jr.—No. 240 and grand child No. 243

$600 which Hadsell paid him. Hadsell says he lost this previous bit of paper during the Civil War. Hadsell was one of the free-state settlers of Kansas.

"In after years, Mr. Hadsell built a spacious stone house over the spring. The first floor opened on the turf where John Brown's fort stood, and the second floor opened on a little plateau above. Hadsell married November 27, 1864 to Miss Sarah Walley, of a noted Missouri family.

They lived here. "It is to be hoped that this scene of martyrdom may always be possessed by such estimable people," the historian says.

Charles C. and Sarah had no issue, but they adopted a child, Minnie, a baby found on the door step. She married a man by the name of Enos Cameron. Issues (5) Sam, Charley, Clyde, Ray and Tom. They all went to Washington state, no further record.

240-226 AMOS HADSELL, JR. His mother Phebe was a dau of Henry Clinton who was son of General Clinton of Revolutionary War fame. Amos moved 1st to Minnesota and in the 1860's to Kansas. The famous John Brown fort and home near LaCynne, Kansas was built by Amos and his brother Charles C. on the stone fort used by John Brown prior and during the Civil War. Amos and Charles were stone Masons. The Hadsells owned the old John Brown fort and farm for years, now a national park.

In 1875 Amos moved to Oregon and farmed near Mapleton.

The James-James Line

310 JAMES HADSELL of New London, Connecticut, was the progenitor of the James Hadsell Jr. families that settled in the northwestern part of the state. The first record that we have found of James Hadsell is that of his marriage to Patience (Hempstead) Ross, 7-6-1721. She was the widow of Thomas Ross, whom she married 9-29-1715, and who died 7-19-1719. She was the daughter of Joshua and Elizabeth (Larrabee) Hempstead, and sister of Joshua Hempstead, the diarist, of New London.

Patience (Hempstead) (Ross) Hadsell died 8-9-1725. The dairy of Joshua Hempstead records each of these events with dates as given herewith. Throughout th dairy the name is spelled (Hodsell", which leads us to believe that the name was pronounced with a broad "a", thus giving the sound of "o" as in the word "odd."

After the death of his first wife, Patience, James Hadsell married at Saybrook, Connecticut, Lydia Post, dau of Abraham and Elizabeth Sterns Post. The marriage is recorded in the Saybrook Vital Records, but the date is obliterated. We know that it was before 7-13-1726, for on that date Joshua Hempstead records in his dairy: "Brother Hodsell and his wife came."

James Hadsell was a sea captain, and believed to be a man of considerable wealth. In Joshua Hempstead's diary there are references to "Brother Hodsell" fitting out ships to go to Boston, Newport and other costal ports.

In 1722, "I sent Brother Hodsoll in the scow to deliver in the boat for Norwich, (Conn.) hhd. Rum, Small hides, hhd. Molasses and bbl. of sugar. I sold 2 bbls of pork to James Hodsoll at Boston prices, 5 lbs. per bbl. and "8-11-1730, I went on board with Brother Hodsoll who is loaded with 1,000 planks, 2, 2½, and 3 inch planks, and 2,000 staves bound for Boston." and "3-14-1731, brother Hodsoll came home from Boston yesterday." "11-19-1728, Brother Hodsoll came last night and lodged here, and in the morning we went on board Stephen and helped them sail for Newport." "7-1-1728, I was in town most all day with Brother Hodsoll buying 13 head of his sheep for 90 lbs."

The land records show this James Hodsoll buying and selling many parcils of land in New London, Saybrook and Killingsworth. On January 1, 1736 he sold for 172 lbs. current money all his land and "mansion house thereon" in New London to Joshua Hempstead, and this is the last record we have found anywhere of this James Hodsoll. Tradition handed down relates that he went to England in that year to settle an estate, and was lost at sea. So firmly was this believed that almost a hundred years later his descendents made efforts to find this inheritance.

On January 23, 1736 the diary records "Sister Hodsoll and family goes to Saybrook; removed by water," to the home of her parents.

James Hodsoll and his wife Lydia (Post) Hodsoll had:

Issue (5) (Hadsell) PATIENCE, whose funeral was held 10-20-1729, age about 3 years; LYDIA, no further record found, Patience date of birth unknown, married as his (2) wife Jedidiah Pierson 10-25-1768(Killingsworth Vital Records). He was the grandson of Abraham Pierson, first president of Yale College; ELIZABETH, baptized 8-26-1733 (Joshua Hempstead's Diary) married 10-26-1752 Timothy Mix (Annals of Newington); JAMES, born at Saybrook 7-5-1736 (Saybrook Vital Records), married Hulda Joyce. Removed to Farmington, Conn., and resided in the section which in 1785 was set off as the town of Bristol. He died there 8-31-1805, aged 69 years.

In going to England, I found that the Captain James, the sailor that shows up in New London, Conn., in 1721 is the James mentioned in the will of Captain James, commander of his Majesties Ship Squirrell, and described as follows: "Unto my nephew James Hodsoll, son of my brother William Hodsoll, deceased, all such wages and table moneys as shall become due to him for the time he shall be with me as a volunteer in her Majesties Ship Squirrell, aforesaid." This will was probated March 18, 1710, and this young James shows up in New London about 1720 and is the father of the James; James; James line so prolific in America. His name was always spelled Hodsoll in New England.

311-310 JAMES HADSELL (James), b 6-5-1736 at Saybrook, Conn., died 8-30-1805 at Bristol, Conn., and buried in the North Burying Ground. He m 6-5-1736 Hulda, dau of Abel and Joanna Beulah Royce (Killingworth Records of the town).

The 1790 census of Bristol town, Conn., lists James Haddfull with four males over 16 (including himself) and 2 males under 16, and 5 females (including his wife).

French and Indian War Records from 1755 to 1762 lists this James Hadsell serving on active duty as follows: on the rolls of the Connecticut men; in the campaign of 1757 he served with the men from Farmington, in Capt. Pettibones Co., at Fort Edwards in Allarrman for 17 days; in the campaign of 1758 he enlisted 4-18-1758 and served to 11-14-1758 in the 10th Co., 1st Reg. under Capt. Lee; in the campaign of 1760 he served in the 7th Co., 2nd Reg. under Capt. Lewis.

“HADSELL THE COPPER SMITH.” Copper was discovered late in the 18th century, through green colored water flowing from a spring on the farm of this James Hadsell. The following quotation is from an old history of Bristol, Conn., entitled “In Olden Times” at New Cambridge as it was first called, describing a picture of James Hadsell’s place.

“Outside the Skibbereen bars or entrance to the copper mine the road turns to the south for a short distance. At the bend facing the east, the last of the three larger houses built by James Hadsell and his son James Jr., stood for many years. On page 228 is a map locating Hadsell’s Copper Shop, with the notation, “Blacksmith Hadsell worked the mine smelting the oar in his forge,” and also locating “James Hadsell’s Sr. place.”

“THE WILL” of this James Hadsell was probated at Bristol 9-9-1805. The following quotations from it are interesting:

“In the name of God, Amen.; I, James Hadsell of Bristol in the Co. of Hartford, Conn., although laboring at present under some indisposition of body, yet being of sound and disposing mind, memory and understanding, through the mercy of God, do make and ordain this my last will and testament in manner and form following:

“First and principally I resign my soul with the utmost humility into the hands of Almighty God, my creator, humbly hoping for a blessed immortality through the merits and mediation of my blessed Savior and Redeemer Jesus Christ; and my body I desire may be decently buried at the descretion of my executors, that I shall in this testament hereafter name; and as for such temporal estate as the Lord in his great goodness and mercy hath entrusted me to be the steward of:.....

“I give and bequith to my dear and beloved wife Hulda, the use and improvements of one-third part of my estate I die possessed of, during her natural life.” The rest he destributes to the following named children; “To my daughters, Ruth, Mary, Hulda and Rebeckah, I also give and bequith to James and my other five sons, John, Mark, Ira, Luke and Dan the remainder of my estate.”

Mark and Ira are appointed executors, and an inventory includes: "The Dwelling House, Oxen, Cows, Sheep, Shotgun, Saddle Bags, The Blacksmith Shop, and the farm."

Issue (9) JOSEPH NILES, b 12-13-1794, d 1-24-1861; JAMES, b 6-5-1797, d 8-7-1803; CLARK, b 1-24-1799, d 4-27-1801; WILLIAM, b 6-24-1801, d 6-26-1880; DORCAS, b 11-12-1803, d 5-31-1899; ALEXANDER, b 4-5-1806, d 4-4-1878; THOMAS, b 10-17-1808, d 11-7-1873; POLLY, b 7-21-1811, d 10-20-1836; JOHN, b 9-12-1813, d 1-12-1817.

The 1790 census shows Joseph Hadsell at Hancock with one son over 16 years old and land records show Joseph deeded his land grant to Isaac, which is quite conclusive that Isaac was the son of Joseph. At the death of Isaac Probate records in Pittsfield on September 11, 1817, Thomas Eldridge the grandfather and Niles the oldest son gave $2,000.00 bond and are appointed guardians unto William a minor about 14, and Alexander, Thomas (called Eldridge) and Dorcas Marie minors under 14. A note by Judge Walker reads "Thomas Eldridge is a suitable man to be guardian for the heirs of Isaac Hadsell (note spelling) late of the town of Hancock. Vol. 21, p. 349.

Another fact that Isaac 1770 names his 1st son Joseph (Niles) in original records of birth in Hancock, Mass., would be further evidence that Isaac 1700 was the son of Joseph and not Wm.

MISCELLANEOUS HADSELLS, UNIDENTIFIED

699 IRA HADSELL b about 1813 in Marion, N.Y., was left an orphan child at an early age. In a letter written November 17, 1856, Ira says: "I cannot trace my genealogy. I left my foster home at the age of 8 years. All of my family having died without leaving me any record."

The 1790 census shows a Samuel Hadsell with 2 females in the Chemung Township, Ontario, Co., N.Y. Just across the line from Palmyra, N.Y., and there is a record of John Hadsell of Luzerne Co., Pennsylvania, having died in Ontario Co., N.Y., who had married his cousin Hanna. But we find no connections.

The history of Palmyra by Tom L. Cook, says: "Ira Hadsell came to Palmyra as a small boy in 1820's. He worked on the Erie Canal in 1824-25. Then was bound out as a weaver to work with Mr. James VanNess until 1854. He was a noted designer and weaver of bedspreads, counterpanes and hand woven coverlets. His son and grandsons have some wonderful samples of his work with his name and dates 1858, 1861-1870 and 1873. Ira Hadsell made the cover on the book "Hand woven coverlets" by Elza Hall, published by Little Brown and Co. in 1914."

Ira married again later in life Jame Ingram.

721 HAROLD EDWARD HADSELFORD b 12-25-1885 and MAGNUS HADSELFORD b 1887 in Hadsel Parish, but just across Hadsel Fjord from Hadsel Island. They were confirmed in Hadsel Church on Hadsel Island. In 1903 or 1905 Harold Ed. came to the United States and a year later his brother Magnus came. In 1907 they were living in a boarding house at Deluth Minnesota. In this neighborhood there were so many scandinavians with the name Hanson that these two brothers decided to begin their new life in this new country with a new name. And what better name could they think of than Hadsselford the place from where they came. So they legally had their name changed to Hadsselford.

They worked hard, went into partnership and prospered. Soon they owned and operated a great dairy farm, ran a creamery, and supplied milk for the city of Deluth, Minnesota. It has been now for over thirty years.

illustration of the patriotic service the Hadsell family with others rendered. I can give only short sketches of the sacrifices in "sweat, blood, and tears" that he records. His is the record of only one Hadsell. Besides my father, I had seven blood uncles in the Civil War. Two of them came out from "hollow-eyed, starving hell" of Libbey and Andersonville prisons living skeletons of themselves. Another uncle hobbled about on a cork leg for the rest of his life. Not only were there these Hadsells of my immediate family, but there were a score or more of other Hadsells in the other lines, who saw service, were wounded and some killed, if we had their stories with space and time to publish them.

Hadsells in Other Wars

I will leave it to some other Hadsell to tell the story of the

On Sept. 5th I was 19 years of age. 9-19 Received our uniforms and the next day guns and equipment. Nov. 21st left Ft. Delaware, Embarked & Anchored at Maryland; Sailed up the Potomac to Alexandria, and 11-24, arrived at Fort Lincoln."

THE CIVIL WAR DIARY

Beginning with Jan. 1, 1863, he kept a diary, recording daily without a single omission what happened, the weather, what he did and interesting historical events. From this voluminous diary I record briefly some of the things of human and historic interest during the Civil War.

It was here at Ft. Lincoln and Ft. Jamison that he spent guarding the Nation's Capitol for over a year. Drill, Guard duty, inspection, improving the Camp, and many daily tasks are recorded.

"Feb. 17, 1863, and Mar. 30th I got a pass to visit the capitol. Saw President Lincoln, his Cabinet and several generals. The Marine Band played. Visited Patent Office, Smithsonian Institute and the Capitol.

Mar. 27, drilled on heavy artillery for the first time. Apr. 5, Got Pilgrims Progress to read. Apr. 23, Rained so hard had to wade waist deep coming off guard. 4-25, Cheering time, got $52.00, Four mo's pay. Paid my debts, sent $20.00 home, have $3.00 left.

May 12, Swam across the Potomac River, coming back got a cramp & went down. Eggleston & Tinklepap got me out. I was about drowned. 6-10, Practiced with cannon, I fired 3 shots at No. 1, sea coast target. June 13 I bought The Life of Washington, a great book. 6-20 Reading The History of Wyoming. June 24. Drilled on light artillery for the first time. June 21, Heavy cannonading heard all day off toward Bull Run. June 24, we had nothing to eat but coffee and pork for two weeks. 6-28, Enemy is expected—put guns in position, mounting 24 pounders, and everybody able to work is digging rifle pits and filling sand bags.

July 4, 1863. On guard at Ft. Jamison—heavy cannonading all day on the otherside of the Potomac. 7-8 100 shots fired for the fall of Vixburg. 7-12 very unhappy and homesick. 7-14 flees & mosquitoes very bad. 7-24 plagued with flees, air clothes every day and keep very clean.

Aug. 10, Sent $20.00 home. So hot the whole Company in swimming.

Sept. 5, 1863, I am 20 years old today. Sept. 29, Sick with fever & ague, & went on sick list. Oct. 18, Reading Life of Lincoln. 10-24 Borrowed the Life of Baxter. Building 5 new Barracks. 11-2, moved in. Nov. 4, 1863, The paper from home states "Isaac Hadsell my brother was going to war." 11-25 Isaac enlisted in this regiment. 11-27, Isaac got to Fort Lincoln. 12-9 Isaac got his equipment and is drilling. He looks like a major. 12-21 We all went on Full dress Brigade parade at Ft. Bunkerhill. 12-22, I changed with Shaver and moved from Ft. Jamison to Ft. Lincoln, and Isaac and me got a bunk together. 12-12 The boys tied their mule under the cook house and fed him bread.

Jan. 16, 1864. Isaac is troubled with his throat & I got him a slice of fat pork for poulice. 1-20 Got a box of new matches just invented. 1-22 Isaac and I were on guard, It was his first time, I had post 1, he 4. 2-2 At Washington, went to the white house and saw Mrs. Lincoln. 2-9 Captain divided Co. into drill squads, I was among the best drilled men in the Co. 2-25 we live pretty well, had onions for breakfast.

Mar. 2, 1864, Had fun boxing. 3-4 we are well, only Ike has the headache and my feet are sore drilling. 3-8 reading 20 Years Before the Mast. 3-13 Letter, Father sold his farm to Lewis Culver and bought the Cosner place. 3-9-15, & 17 Fishing 100 & 250, some nice pike. Enough for the whole Co. We live like Kings eating fish. 3-19 Best of health, Improve the time reading the news, good books, the Bible and the old ministers' tracts. Mar. 20 to 25th. Pay day. I got $52.00 & Isaac 75.00. Paid all our debts, $82.00 to send home. Watched the boys gamble away their money, I hadn't much to do with it. 20 men were put in the guard house for gambling. 25th tried my luck and won $2.00 and quit. Later he says I lost all my money last night. Isaac and I pledged never to gamble, cheat, steal, lie or use tobacco or swear.

Leaves Fort Lincoln

3-26-1864 We packed up at 9 o'clock, slung our knapsacks—awful heavy—and marched to the city before resting. Then on to Georgetown, down the Ave. all the way, crossed the chain bridge and on to Fort Eathnel. Then our company went over to Fort Markecy. We were sure tired out. Isaac gave out. He got cramps and I helped him up and got him a good bed in the cook house. 3-27 Up at daylight after a good nights rest on the soft side of a board. The Vermont regiment relieved us at Fort Lincoln.

3-28 There was a great scare last night—guards thought they saw rebels and shot off their guns.

3-30 We are near Arlington Heights. Twelve men out of each company on guard.

4-2 I was in the church—Lafferty was playing the melodeon. They have singing every night.

4-3 I wrote a letter to grandmother.

4-7 On guard every day.

4-8 Isaac made the best shot at the target. I spent the evening reading the life of "General Grant."

4-11 We were on guard; I got post 4 and Isaac on post 5. Are ordered to stop everybody, white or black, male or female; to see if they are all right.

4-16 Isaac bought him a slate and arithmetic to study. No news in the Herald, only they are trying to move the state capital.

4-19 Letter from home. Father thinks Isaac can get $300 local bounty from Franklin, who was drafted, taking his place.

4-23 Our pickets were attacked. 4-24 Great alarm last night. Several guns fired and all the new recruits were routed out.

4-25 Our Co. house is finished and we heat at tables for the first time.

The First Man Shot

4-26 I was on guard, picket number 6. All went well till 9 p.m.; then Henry Jenkins was shot. He was on picket number 5. A rebel crept up on him and shot him with a double barrel gun, buck shot. The whole garrison was alarmed and took to arms. Isaac was in a squad with Lt. Lafferty and brought in a citizen with guns, cartridges and sword. 4-28 There was $2.00 offered for Henry W. Jenkins' picture. The first man of our 112th Regiment shot by the rebels.

4-28-1864 I weighed today 183 pounds.

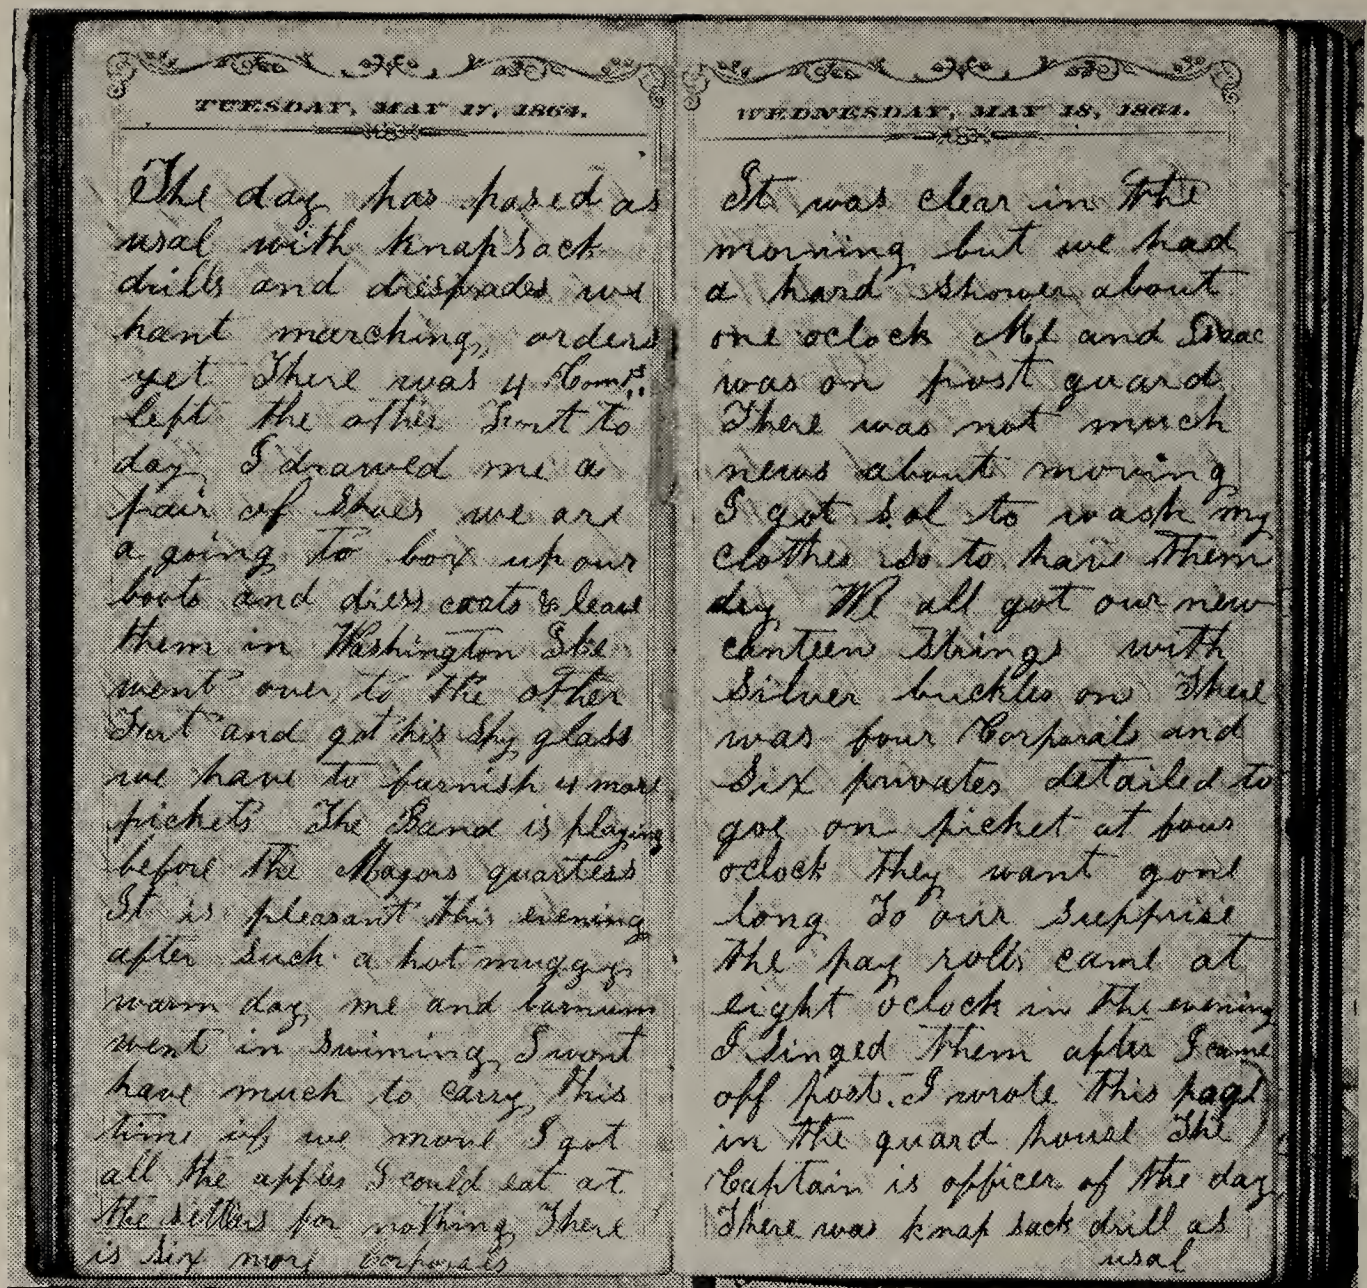

4-30 The boys are full of mischief—dancing and scuffling all day. We had mush and molasses for supper.

5-4 Everything goes lovely when the goose hangs high. The newspaper states our regiment is highly recommended for cleanliness and well disciplined.

5-4 Our army crossed the Rapidan. Shells fell thick and fast and we all had to run from our old position.

5-8 Great—300 killed and 10,000 wounded left on battlefield. Lee is retreating to Richmond and Grant is in close pursuit.

5-9 Good news. Lee retreating and Butler on move cutting off railroad so Beauragard can't re-enforce him.

Sample Pages of Charles Hadsell's Civil War Diaries.

Every page filled.

5-12 Good news. Grant captures a whole brigade of rebs and sends them to the rear. 5-13 Grant captures 20,000 prisoners.

5-14 These are stirring times. We expect to march to the front soon. We got 40 rounds of cartridges.

5-16 Everyone is packing and sending home all extras.

5-18 The chaplain is lecturing tonight. 5-20 I traded my old gold pen for a new one and one dollar to boot. Got paid, and sent home $40.

We Started for the Front

5-27 We went over to Ethan Allen and started all together over the chain bridge, down through Washington, through mud down to 7th St. Wharf; laid till 5 p.m. When we got on the boat at dark, five steamers anchored near Acquia Creek. E. Ford fell overboard. Must have drowned, at least we never saw him again.

5-28 At Point Lookout and sailed on down to the mouth of the Rapahannock.

5-29 Boat took us up to Port Royal about an hour before dark.

5-30 We were issued 80 rounds of cartridges. Boys are hungry for they have ate up all their rations.

5-31 Whole Regiment well in at 9 a.m. Commenced moving. So hot a large amount of clothing thrown away.

6-1 We marched so fast and it was so hot that I gave out before they stopped. I got in the wagon. Throwed away my knapsack. Isaac stood it first rate. We marched till after dark. I went to the doctor and got something for my cramps. We marched through Bowling Green, a pretty place and many people.

6-2 There were more than a thousand dead horses along the road after a cavalry battle.

6-3 The boys are foraging every thing they can get. They killed a sheep and bullock just at night. I got a piece of it. I hadn't eaten anything since I started. I gave a dollar for a piece of chicken for my dinner. It made me feel better.

6-4 The boys are laying the pontoons across the Pamunker. We went across the river about 9 o'clock at night.

The Battle of the Wilderness

6-4 It is a great wilderness. There was a heavy fighting here yesterday. It's raining this p.m. Now we are with Burnside. I saw Burnside. We had beef. There is fighting all the time. I slept with Isaac on the wet ground, but slept well.

6-5 There was fighting all day. Both sides are in their earth works. We struck tents as we can't go any farther. There was a heavy charge made at us just at dark. Our regiment went out and dug earth works all night. We are in the 18th Army Corp. We see prisoners and wounded men almost everywhere.

6-6 We ventured out in the woods. We hadn't more than gotten there before the rebels went to throwing shots into us. We got out soon and into the breast works and lay on our arms all night. We expect a hard fight.

6-7 Before day break the rebs threw shells in us for a long time. We worked on the ditch till 5 p.m., when the attack commenced and for an hour they kept it up brisk, on both sides. Several got hit. A shell came within a rod of me, but it did not burst, I was lucky.

6-12 We layed on the edge of the woods till the rebs shelled us thick and fast. At 9 p.m. we took a double-quick in the front rifle pits. We stayed an hour, then took out with the rear guard and marched all night.

6-13 After all night march, we found ourselves within 4 miles of Whitehouse Landing. At the wharf Isaac and I got a good dinner, bought ink, soap and jell. Drew 3 days rations. They are going to City Point.

6-14 At 6 we moved to the front for the battle. It is raging with fury. Five or six of our regiment were wounded and one killed.

6-18 Our battalion put on picket, 4 on a post. Heavy fighting on the left all day. The boys are shooting sheep, hogs and cattle for meat.

6-19 We are pressing the enemy close on the left. Artillery roaring on both sides all day—shelling each other's works.

6-20 We marched to the Apomatex. Crossed pantoon bridge at Point of Rocks, went up to Point Comfort and camped. Our mail came, 4 letters from home.

6-22 We slept on our arms all night.

6-23 Rebels shelling all day. Some fell in our camp. The provisions got cut up bad and several got killed. Our right is on the bank of the Appomatex and left near the town. We can see the rebels plain. After dark we went out in the front rifle pits.

The Rebels Charge

6-24 Bullets came thick and fast. Then a general engagement. Heavy artillery, such as I never heard. Then the rebs made a charge. They came pretty near our battery, threw down their arms and came over to us. Over 200 of them close to where I was. Two or three were killed in our regiment and several wounded.

6-29 I was glad to get my New Testament.

6-30 We were ordered to strike tents as quick as we could. Then we marched to the Front and formed in line of battle. At the rifle pits on our left the battle was raging with fury. We stopped and lay in the edge of the woods, and oh, how they shelled us.

7-1 Dreadful hot! I read in my Testament and did sewing and mending to get ready to go in the rifle pits. It was in the front pit near the railroad.

7-2 We got up this morning, surprised that our captain was taken prisoner. Lt. Gee was wounded and we are left without any officers. The captain and sargent of our battalion were scouting outside the picket line and went too far. We fixed our rifle pits and rebels shelled us like fury. Six of our men acted as sharp shooters. There was heavy firing on the right. Garber took charge.

7-3 In the rifle pits again this sabbath. Who knows where we will be next sabbath.

Shell Shocked & Battle Weary

7-6 Our men blew up a section of the Joneys Forts. Neither Isaac nor I were well today—very hot. The bullets bother us. We lose some men every time we come in the pits. Who will be the next—don't know.

7-8 Some men left here for Harpers Ferry.

7-9 I am very bad. Am poorer than I ever was before. Couldn't eat anything. Hot sun on our head and dusty. Back in the rifle pits tonight.

Still a Sense of Humor

7-14 I have to laugh to see how sleepy the boys are this morning. No man is allowed to sleep as we are only 200 yards from the Jonneys. All we could find fault with was we couldn't get enough to eat.

7-16 Five hundred Jonies came in our line last night and surrendered.

7-17 Good news in papers. Jonies drivin out of Maryland and Washington is safe at last.

7-18 A Jonie came in last night and told us the rebs were getting ready to make a charge and we got ready for them. There are several graves in the edge of the woods.

7-22 Burnside ordered troupes on our picket lines to keep shooting all day.

7-25 Dug an under ground tunnel from rear pits to the front pits.

7-27 Pres. Lincoln makes another call for 500,000 more men. One killed and 8 wounded.

7-28 Borrowed five dollars of Charles Smith and agreed to give him $1 interest on the next pay day. Money don't buy much, these southerners rob us.

7-29 Drew 3 days rations. Struck tents at 10 p.m. and marched to the left of the 9th company.

7-30 I awoke with the roar of cannon and the rattle of musketry told us war had actually begun and we were in the fray. One fort was blown up. In came the wounded; they looked bad. We were held in reserve in the edge of the woods.

The five sons of Charles Hadsell, No. 37

7-31 Got a letter from father last night stating he was drafted. News I don't like to hear.

8-1 There was an Armistice from 7 to 9 this morning all along the line. In a few moments we were all up on the parapit on both sides looking over to see what we could. I went to the right and took a look at Petersburg. Isaac was helping dig a well. Signed the pay roll for $16 a month.

8-9 I was sharp shooting all day. I used up 50 rounds. Frank

Divine got wounded in the mouth and one of Battery C wounded in the back. We aren't more than 30 rods from the rebel pits. Closest place on the line, rebels started awful shelling. We had a very narrow escape.

8-10 Up at 3 a.m. and marched til day light. We were shelled but not hurt. Fixed a bed and lay on the ground in the open air all night.

8-12 I took a good wash all over for we get awful dirty lying in the dirt.

8-13 I got a letter from home. Father paid $300 for some one to take his place in the draft.

8-14 We slept under the big gum tree last night. Three of our men went as sharpshooters.

8-17 Awful shooting commenced. Sargent Bob C. killed by ball going through his head. They buried him a few rods from here.

8-18-1864 Cut the railroad at Marrilina Hill within 2 miles of Fort Darling.

8-19 Two years ago today we were mustered in the U. S. Army. There is heavy firing at the left. I took a walk up in the field looking at the head boards of our soldiers graves. What a tragedy.

8-21 Rebs charged us in the night and were repulsed losing two-thirds of their men.

8-22 We hollered over to the Joneys and told them we would stop firing if they would. They agreed. Baker changed papers with them in the morning. Then at night Smalts traded and got 2 days of Richmond papers. It states we still hold the railroad but lose a good many prisoners.

8-26 Relieved! Marched to Point of Rocks. Major Anderson in command.

8-28 We can see the rebels walking along their lines very plain, harmless. They agreed to stop shooting and we traded coffee with them for tobacco. I took some extra I had and got a plug. I had quite a chat with a rebel, Lieutenant of Georgia troops, very friendly. The Brigade officer of the day put Sam Miller under arrest for changing papers with the rebs. Isaac had a good mellon and big sweet potato for me—it went good.

8-30 We were ordered to move back in the woods. Four gun boats do picket duty up the Appamotex R., We can hear the steam boats whistle.

8-31 The news that Fort Morgan has surrendered to our men

9-2 There was heavy shelling at Petersburg at night.

9-4 I saw U. S. Grant and Mead go by camp today. He is of sandy complexion.

9-5 I am 21 years old today & on picket.

9-8 Major General Gibbens was present, who commands our Corps. Col. Fairchild is command of our Brigade and Brigadier Gen. Aimes is in command of the Division. General Ord commands this Department. Our regiment is all that's left of the Brigade.

9-9 A good deal of fault being found. We're not getting enough to eat.

9-13 One thousand a day being sent from City Point to the left. A big fight is breeding somewhere. Grant has a railroad finished near his left. I read several chapters in my New Testament.

9-18 At night we packed for City Point.

9-21 Long train of calvary and ambulances going to the front. Heavy cannon going off saluting Sheridan. It is reported that Early's army has been cut all to pieces. Sheridan captured all his artillery and several thousand prisoners. I sent my name home to vote for Abe.

9-26 The 2nd corps went to Petersburg and the rebels fell back. Another dispatch from Sheridan to Grant says he had captured 9000 rebels. There was loud cheering along the line.

War is Hell

9-30 Rebels massed their forces near our skirmish line and charged in 4 lines of battle; twice on the front that we took from them. They were repulsed each time. Their loss was heavy. We took 300 prisoners the first day. 500 today. General Ord was wounded in the leg.

10-1 Major Anderson was killed yesterday, found him today and sent the body home. It is reported that Petersburg was taken. There was heavy firing in that direction.

Dead Lay in Heaps

10-3 Went out on the battlefield. The dead lay in heaps, and as thick as stumps, counted over 200 dead on a small piece of ground. Our men don't bury them. It commenced raining, and mudded up our pits nasty. We built a fire in the center of the pit, got around the fire and began to tell each other how we would tell our grandchildren of these awful days.

10-5 Seventy-five rebels came in last night.

10-12 Inspection day. The boys fired off their guns. The pickets became alarmed. Jonnys came in by the dozens. Pickets had truce up most all day changing papers and other things. Papers state that the rebels got licked like fury.

10-17 There was shelling at Duck Gap most all the time.

10-18 I had a walk by the river. I saw 5 gun boats and a truce boat loaded with prisoners that was exchanged at Duck Gap.

10-20 There was a general salute for General Sheridan and cheering until midnight. Sheridan got whipped at first and lost 30 pieces of artillery. At 5 p.m. Sheridan charged and captured 43 pieces of artillery besides wagons and prisoners.

10-27 Father sent me some "electors" tickets to put in for Abe.

10-28 Our men charged on a fort driving the enemy back about 8 miles. It was the heaviest cannonading I ever saw.

10-29 I sold my issue of whiskey for a beef steak.

11-4 The state of Nevada was admitted into the union. One more star in the flag making thirty-six stars.

11-8 Election day quiet. There was 77 for Abe Lincoln and 12 or 15 for McMellan.

11-14 I got a letter from home written October 29. It said Uncle Edward was taken a prisoner.

11-18 Up at 4 and ready to march. We crossed the James River about daylight.

11-19 About 4 a.m. the whole battalion, except very few, were detailed for picket. At 10 a.m. the pickets were attacked, but they stood their ground.

11-24 Thanksgiving Day. Our company got 200 pounds of turkey to be cooked tomorrow.

11-25 We had stewed turkey twice today.

11-27 While eating breakfast we go orders to march. We left after noon.

11-28 We started policing but fell in rank. Fifty were counted off to go to Redoubt Dutton, an advance battery beyond the main line. Before we got half way there the rebels poured several volleys of musketry into us. The pickets kept picking at each other all day.

11-29 We went to the pits and stayed until day light. There was firing all day both musketry and artillery.

11-30 Lieutenant William Gee came to stay with the detachment. Pickets are firing at each other all day and the batteries are firing at enemy working squads. A piece of shell hit our tent.

12-2 Continued fighting. 12-3 Good news today. Our whole line opened up on the Johnnys. Each was trying for the last shot before dark.

12-4 Sunday; It is a dull day. No religious services near.

12-5 I went to work on my ring for an hour or so.

12-7 The candles didn't come so I am writing this in the dark. Two rebel sargents came in.

12-9 Isaac gave me a ring that he made out of a Joney's shell. There is a move around Cold Harbor—a reconnoissance—as Grant calls it, That is what the Joneys hate especially.

Receives a Large Bible

12-13 The W.S.C.C. gave me a large Bible. We look for an attack this morning, as Grant is pressing Lee on the left, hard.

12-14 A colored soldier was shot on picket last night and was burned today. I read 10 chapters in the Bible today.

12-15 Our bread didn't come today so we had to be satisfied with hard tack. I read 11 chapters in my Bible today.

12-16 Strawbridge came over and inspected us.

12-17 I read the whole book of Genesis. Isaac had his neck opened again. Last night the men were routed out. They were given 5 rounds and then they quieted down.

12-18 Read my Bible. The rebels made quite a fuss, shooting at the deserters. The Negroes returned the compliment. Great news! Thomas captured 15,000 Johnnys. I hope it is so.

12-19 Finished reading the book of Exodus. We had a nice game of ball. Johnnys didn't bother us today.

12-20 It is reported that Savannah is taken.

Deserters Shot

12-21 The men dug five graves for the deserters that were shot.

12-22 At midnight 5 dead deserters brought in and laid on the ground not more than 4 rods from our tent. They belonged to Company G.

12-27 I shot my gun and cleaned it for muster. There's talk of furloughs now. Nine rebels came in last night and complained of not enough to eat.

12-29 It is rumored that Davis is dead. The rebel flags are at half mast.

12-31 I am at Redoupt Dutton, Bermuda Front, Virginia, on New Year's Eve.

1865

Jan. 1, 1865, We were at Redoupt Dutton on the Bermuda front line near the Va. Provincial Division.

Jan. 5, The boys all like to see my mother's picture.

Jan. 8, Jonnies came in for the last few nights, 5 at a time in places. We didn't get any dinner as the cooks were drowned out.

1-14 I was on picket, & 4 Jonnies came in near my post. They bring their guns along. I had a long chat with one, he was ragged and hungry. The boys fed him up well before sending him in. Watched the enemy changing troops. They put the N.C. troops in place of Alabama's. They have to change often on account of so many deserters.

1-18 Fort Fisher fell and 2,000 prisoners with 75 guns taken.

Buys a New Diary

1-20 I run around most all day to find a diary, had dress parade & a short drill then I went to writing in a diary the records I kept since Jan. 1st.

1-21 Ground covered with Ice. Kept fire, read my bible, & wrote letters. Then I tell you I hated to go out in the storm, we wadded thru to the line and relieved the cold boys.

1-23 Xmas box came from home & O, good things to eat.

Jan. 24 Roused out and into the pits at 5 A.M. There was a mess up about Duch gap. Two rebel Rams came down the river last night, one got sunk. The pickets fired like fury. Heavy firing kept up all night and today, til noon.

1-25 Mr. Blair is at Richmond on his second Peace mission. Some are making big bets on peace within 2 months. Let it come.

1-28 One Joney came in last night on our line. He was bare-foot and nearly froze, & starved. My ink froze last night.

Feb. 1, 1865. Built a fire and roasted some Chestnuts that I got from home. 2-2 Got 4 days rations of sugar. Cooked a quart of beans. We have beans about every day. They are very good. There was heavy firing on Petersburg today.

2-7 There was a hard battle on the left and they say that the 5th core advanced 8 miles. Davis, my tent mate is a candy maker at home, and he made some candy for us today.

2-9 Hard shelling at Petersburg last night. We can see the shells burst from here.

2-12 Made buckwheat pancakes for supper.

2-15 Eleven Jonnies came in last night.

2-17 Rebs charged on our picket line, but got repulsed with a goodly number left dead between the lines.

2-18 Four of us was put on one post, Dubs, Frazy, Lanigan and myself. We fixed us some holes to get in for we expected an attack, and sure enough the attack came at 10 o'clock.

2-20 Deserters say that the Rebs are about to evacuate Richmond.

Feb. 21, 1865. A salute of 100 guns fired celebrating the capture of Charleston by Sherman. They say Wilmington is ours. 18 Jonnies came in last night and expect more tonight. I spent most of the day reading. Finished the 2nd book of Samuel.

2-22 Salute fired at Petersburg in honor of Washington's birthday.

2-26 Fort Anderson was taken Feb. 19th. I shaved off my winter beard today. G. Duke took a walk with me; we had a nice time chatting over old times when he was a Reb & I a Yank and the battles were on.

3-2 My blankets hanging on the line got wet, but that is nothing in war time. Beef today, the first in a long time. The U. S. Christian Mission gave me a house-wife & darning needle; so I am all right on the stocking question. 3-3 A good deal of firing on picket line last night. 12 Jonnies came in & eleven of our men were detailed to take off the prisoners.

Lincoln Begins 2nd Term

3-4 Lincoln takes his seat for the 2nd term today and there is cheering along the lines.

3-9 Twenty Jonnies came in. They say it won't be long now. Played ball and pitched Quates.

3-10 12 Jonnies came in today, Most of them were hard nuts. They stick to their Secession Doctrine.

3-11 The report that Earley was captured is not true but we did take 1200 men prisoners. Lincoln's inaugural ball—Mrs. Lincoln said it was a scramble, & Pres. Lincoln said it was a Systematic Scramble.

3-13 No news but plenty of rumors afloat that would make good news if true.

March 16, 1865. 26 Jonnies came in last nite. Isaac caught cold and the sore in his neck is running again.

3-20 Very heavy musketry firing on the right. And heavy artillery firing on the left.

3-23 No Jonnies came in because of Grant's and Lee's peace mission.

3-26 The fighting in front of Petersburg yesterday, took in some prisoners. Lincoln and his family and Grant and his family went to visit Ord's army in Philadelphia. Sheridan's Cavalry came this side of the James today and camped in the woods here for the night.

3-30 Heaviest cannonading I ever heard in front of Petersburg.

April 1, 1865. News that Sherman has reached City Point. Fighting on left.

4-2 & 3. The 10th N. Y. charged the rebel works and were repulsed with heavy loses. Finally a truce was accepted and we took off our dead and wounded. Sheridan got around to the rear of Pittsburg and we captured 6 Jonies today. Over 200 rebels were brought here last night, and I helped take 80 odd down to Bermuda. Back at dark. Got an oyster supper 50 cents.

4-4 Awful exciting times. It's rumored that Lee and 30,000 prisoners have been captured. A 100 rebs are here. Also captured several thousand dollars worth of tobacco—issued it to the boys and I got all I wanted.

The Victory Won and Petersburg is Ours

Apr. 6, 1865. Our Company was relieved and we started for Petersburg where we are to guard Headquarters. Arrived in town about 2 o'clock.

President Lincoln Was Here

4-7 President Lincoln was here at headquarters today. He put up in one of the hotels. There are several dead Joneys still up near the pits. The boys have fun with the little darkey boys, getting them to dance and sing.

4-8 We have a little sheet printed here called "Grants Petersburg Progress." It gives all the news.

Wars Devastation

4-11 I took a walk up to see what stronglines the rebels had. No one can imagine the destruction of property. The earth is cut up and heaped up for miles. I was up on the ruins of the rebel fort that we blew up.

4-12 Excitment in town over 9,000 prisoners passed through for City Point. Governor Curtin was here at headquarters.

Our Flag Still There

4-13 Four years ago today Major Anderson had to lower the flag on Fort Sumpter and today he raised it there again. A heavy salute was fired. Strong reports are that Johnson has surrendered.

4-14 I broke my pen and bought another silver holder and No. 4 pen for $2.50.

President Lincoln Assassinated

4-16 Easter Sunday. We have heard awful bad news today, if true, which is that President Lincoln died at a few moments past eight yesterday from wounds that he received the day before. The great southern actor by the name of Booth shot him. The boys all feel bad.

4-19 Sheridan's cavalry was running all over town. Flags were half-mast and bells were ringing all day. The President was buried today.

4-23 The last of the 9th Corps passed through this morning on their way home.

4-25 Wilkes Booth was in town last night.

4-26 Grant has gone to North Carolina. I tell you the soldiers are down on those terms Sherman gave Johnson to surrender. I got a letter from Isaac. He is a cook and is well.

4-28 Reports announcing that Johnson has surrendered on the same terms as Lee and a salute of 100 guns fired. All bands turned out and played.

All are glad, except some rank sesesh that ought to have their throats cut.

4-29 Official announcement is, that Booth was shot, trying to escape on the Rapphannock.

May 1, 1865, Sunday, went to church. Filled mostly with soldiers from both armies, north and south. General Grant's brother-in-law preached the sermon.

5-5 Good news. The soldiers are to be discharged as fast as possible.

5-7 General Blair and General Howard inspected our lines today.

5-8 Boys all anxious to get home — they see so many going.

5-12 The civil authorities take over the city today.

5-10 President Johnson has offered a reward of one hundred thousand dollars for the arrest of Jefferson Davis, and $25,000 for the arrest of Clement Clay, Jacob Thompson, George N. Sanders, and Beverly Tuckoner; and $10,000 for William Clarey. President Johnson says that all these men were engaged in a plot to assassinate President Lincoln.

Jefferson Davis Captured

5-15-1865 Major General J. H. Wilson sends the following dispatch today: "I have the honor to report that at daylight of the 10th instant Colonel Pritchard, commanding 4th Michigan Cavalry, captured Jeff Davis and his family 75 miles east of Macon, Georgia." They will be here tomorrow.

5-17 Jeff Davis will be in Washington in a few days.

5-19 I went down town (Pittsburg) and got my picture taken in dress uniform. A great review is to come off, then we will get our discharge.

On The Old Camp Ground

May 24-1865 In the P.M. we took a walk up to Burnside's mile and took another bird's view of our old camps and the pits that we lay in so long and endured such hardship. They looked as natural as ever.

5-25 to 6-19 He repeats almost every day, Times are very dull indeed. All there is to make it exciting now is for one of the clerks to start a rumor about our being discharged soon.

5-26 I think we will get home in less than 3 weeks, now we will see how near I come to it.

5-27 The boys are almost crazy for they think they will get home soon.

5-28 The boys had fun throwing up some little niggers in a blanket.

5-30 Some visitors from our home town, Pitston, Pennsylvania was here today to see some of the boys.

5-31 This is a great holiday for the southern Queen of May over in the park. Isaac and I was over in Pokhontus.

6-1-1865 This was a day of thanksgiving and prayer in memory of our deceased President. I see Jeff Davis is taken to Washington for trial.

6-3 I was on guard. The boys are playing violins, guttares and tryiangle.

Visits Richmond

6-5 Issac and I got a pass and went up to Richmond. The hottest day I ever experienced. We saw all of the Davis Government that was left.

6-7 We raised a new flagpole for our new flag. It is 36 feet long and 15 feet wide.

6-6 Sunday, we went to the Episcopal Church. I didn't like their style at all.

6-12 Troops came today to releave us. The big question every day is when we will get discharged.

6-13 Times so dull. No news so I will write what we had for dinner. We had green peas and new potatoes. They were excelant.

The Survivors of Battery M Second Pennsylvania Heavy Artillery, Taken June 23, 1865 at Harrisburg, Penn. the day they were mustered out. Charles Hadsell is identified in the picture by his own hand writing.

6-14 We took the flag-pole down, for the lightening split it all to pieces last night. Lightning also killed a woman in town.

6-17 They have been working on our mustering out rolls now for over a week. The boys are singing all kinds of songs tonight to pass away the time. It is roll call and I must run.

Mustered Out

June 19, 1865 It was a clear day. In the morning the new officers took command. We were mustered out at one o'clock, it being just 39 months since we were mustered in at Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

6-20 Captain Barber made up a short speech. Then he escorted us to the depot. Arrived at City Point at 9 a.m. At 10 he got aboard the transport "Lizzie Baker" bound for Washington, D.C. We got to Fort Monroe at 5 o'clock and at Point Lookout by midnight. Issac was still on duty when we left. There was great shaking of hands and cheering when we left the new company. Schooley was there to see us off.

6-21 After riding all night, this morning found us half way up the Potomac R. We got to Washington, D.C. wharf at half past eight. Captain Barber got transportation for us to Harrisburg and we started on the extra train at sundown. Most of us made another visit to the Capitol before leaving, and most of the boys were all anxious to get a site at Fort Lincoln when we passed (The Fort we guarded so long at the beginning of the War). We arrived at Baltimore about 11 p.m., changed depots and were soon on our way home.

6-22-1865 As the sun rose we crossed the line from Maryland into Pennsylvania and arrived at Harrisburg at noon. Then went to Camp Curtin, got a good dinner and at 3 p.m. turned in our arms. It was done in a hurry. Camp Curtin looks different than it did in 1862 when I was mustered in.

Discharged

6-23 Most of us had our picture taken in a group. At 10 a.m. the Captain brought in our rolls. By 11 we had then signed and marched off to the pay office where we got our discharge. Rode right for the depot and caught the one o'clock train and came right through to Pittstown, Pennsylvania.

Home At Last

6-24-1865 Stayed at the Eagle Hotel last night at Pittstown, Pennsylvania and after breakfast went to the store and got some needed civilian clothes. Then I marched home. The folks and the whole community had a great soldiers' welcome home dinner at Pincherville. Then I went up to see Granpaps.

Thus ends the war record, sketches of which I have gleaned from the war diaries of Charles Hadsell. Each page of these diaries was completely filled, a sample of which may be seen in the following picture.

Symbol of Liberty and Freedom

CHALLENGE TO FREEDOM

One evening as I listened to a band play the beautiful strains of "America" and watched our flag of red, white and blue wave in the breeze, I wondered if people today realize what a wonderful heritage our forefathers gave us—the "sweet land of liberty." We take so much for granted that we hardly realize what a price the early Americans paid for the liberty we enjoy today. A few days ago our nation celebrated its 180th birthday. Those men wanted freedom to think and act as their consciences directed. They wanted it enough to work for it and, when the need came, to fight for it.

What would it be like if the freedom of speech, press, assembly, or our freedom to worship as we believe should be taken from us? We would soon appreciate what we now have.

We, who have so many advantages, should make the best use of them, and aim to keep our country on a high level of living.

The vast opportunities of education open to all who want an education also gives the challenge to maintain and preserve this heritage and pass it on to those who will follow after us.

HADSELL CHRISTIAN NAMES

In this index I have purposely given only the first name in most cases. There are so many Hadsells that have the same name that to have listed their middle initial or name would have doubled the size of the index. Besides, any Hadsell with a name which others carry, will be interested in looking up all the other Hadsells with his name.

THE INDEX

In the index there are over 10,000 references. To have given each reference a line of standard type would have taken over 100 pages, with double columns. This would not only make the book bulky, but the expense prohibitive.

The family names are listed alphabetically. Although the type is small and set solid each family name and number is set in bold face type, so as to be easily discovered. The given name in each family that does not have a number of its own comes under the black-faced family number. If a sur-name is given a number it means that that party is found elsewhere, and located by that number. The numbers in the index do not refer to pages, but to families.

INDEX OF ADDRESSES

Every place mentioned in this genealogy is indexed. The numbers given refer to the family numbers. Not only the present and late addresses are given of all that I could find, but wherever the residence of former Hadsells could be found, they are also included. This will be valuable to any future Hadsell who would like to do further research, along any line, as well as to contact any Hadsell now living.
